Eisenhower Selects 14-Man Farm Advisory Group Crowe Renews Pledge For A Continuing Fight For Economy

To Work With Sec. Benson On Ag Program

New York (AP) — President-elect Eisenhower yesterday named a 14-man agricultural advisory committee to help draft the new administration's farm program.

The group will work with Ezra Taft Benson, secretary of agriculture—designate, and apparently is the forerunner of a bi-partisan federal agricultural commission. Eisenhower pledged during the campaign he would create such a commission if elected.

The advisory group of farm specialists was described as an interim committee in today's announcement. An Eisenhower aide said the committee would function between now and inauguration day, Jan. 20, and probably for a while thereafter.

The chairman of the committee is W. L. Myers, dean of the Agriculture College at Cornell University.

The announcement on establishment of the committee did not list party affiliations of the members.

No members of Congress were named to the committee, but Benson reportedly is planning to confer as well with the Senate and House Agriculture Committees in shaping the administration's farm program.

Besides Myers, members of the interim committee named by Eisenhower after conferences with Benson are:

Jesse W. Tapp of San Francisco, vice president of the Bank of America; John H. Davis of Boston, executive vice president of the National Wool Marketing Corp.; Carl Farrington of Minneapolis, associated with the Archer-Daniels-Midland Company;

Harry B. Caldwell of Greensboro, N. C., master of the North Carolina State Grange; Romeo Short of Brinkley, Ark., vice president of the American Farm Bureau Federation; Homer Davidson of Chicago, vice president of the American Meat Institute; D. W. Brooks of Atlanta, Ga., general manager of the Georgia Cotton Producers' Association;

Milo Swanton of Madison, Wis., executive secretary of the Wisconsin Council of Agriculture; Bert Wood of Corvallis, Ore., head of the Agriculture Economics Department at Oregon State College; Albert Mitchell of Albert, N. M.;

Robert R. Koker of Hartselle, S. C.; Chris Millius of Omaha, Neb., president of the Nebraska Red of West Lafayette, Ind., dean of the Agriculture College at Purdue University.

Europe's Rearmament Faces Ike

Washington (AP) — President-elect Eisenhower soon will tackle some of the same European problems he faced over two years ago as commander-in-chief of the fledgling European army.

Eisenhower will meet British Prime Minister Churchill in New York next week, and their talks undoubtedly will mark the beginning of the President-elect's personal involvement in European affairs, even before his inauguration.

A multitude of problems, held in abeyance during the presidential campaign, boil down now to two main questions:

One—Can the European Allies afford to rearm at the pace they once set for themselves?

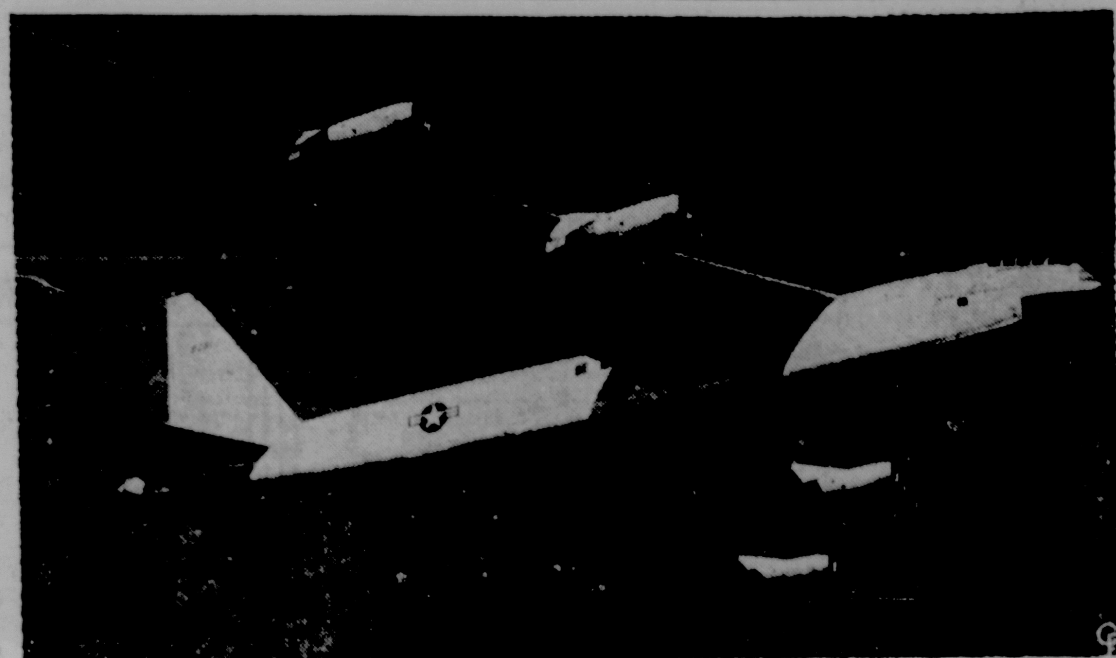

Two—Is the Russian threat serious enough to require maximum rearmament?

Leaders of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization sharpened the basic questions last week by halving the funds they said they could spend for constructing more of the airfields and communications deemed necessary for defense.

Behind this was a perceptible slowdown in the rearmament program and the evident intention of European leaders to wait and see what Eisenhower does about continued American assistance.

SUCCESSFULLY COMPLETING its preliminary flight test over Boeing Field, Washington, is the new giant eight-jet, swept-wing B-52 Stratofortress, America's new "global" or international bomber. It has been ordered into production by the United States Air Force and the initial fabrication of parts are now well under way. Two experimental models, it was announced, have been given trials.

Short Session Drive Is Started Before Congress Gets Ready For Business

Washington (AP) — The annual work-fast-go-home-early drive is already on even before the new Congress meets.

This time it is gaining impressive support among the Republican leaders who will call the signals in the session opening Saturday.

Most of them are said to favor a session ending in June or July, or at least a long summer recess when Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio), who will be the new Senate majority leader, is expected to outline his ideas on an abbreviated session when Republican senators meet Friday to organize.

Because of its traditional stand for unlimited debate, plus a few filibusters, the Senate has a natural tendency to lag far behind the House on lawmaking. Thus it really holds the whip hand on length of sessions.

In recent years congressional sessions have tended to drag out over most of the year, usually with a recess or vacation during August and September.

Aides of Taft said he hopes to speed up the pace in the Senate without changing formal rules by simply pushing for a quicker start on actual legislation and urging Republican committee chairmen to aim for early adjournment.

The Congressional Reorganization Act set a July 31 deadline for ending annual sessions but this has been ignored.

Sen. Mundt (R-SD), told a reporter he will join the effort to "get a sine die adjournment at least by July 31st."

"Barring unusual emergencies which would allow President Eisenhower to call a special session, I see no reason to stay in session the last half of the year," Mundt said.

"Most members of Congress live a long way from Washington and we want and are entitled to some time at home in our states and districts," he added.

Republicans are confident they will have the support and co-operation of President-elect Eisenhower for shortening the time that the 96 senators and 435 House members must stay in Washington.

U. N. Admits Violations

Tokyo (AP) — The United Nations Command last night admitted two minor violations of the armistice conference zone and at the same time rejected two other Communist claims of allied violations.

In letters delivered to the Reds at Panmunjom, the UNC admitted an air flight over the zone on Nov. 15 and acknowledged that Allied shells had fallen close enough to the zone perimeter on Dec. 20 for fragments to fly over the boundary.

200 Chinese Reds Driven Off Ridge

Seoul, Monday (AP) — Nearly 200 Chinese attacked on Sniper Ridge in freezing cold last night but Allied troops drove them off after five hours of hot machinegun and rifle fighting.

An Eighth Army staff officer said the Reds left 14 counted dead behind them in the crushed snow. Twenty-eight others were estimated killed.

It was the heaviest assault in two weeks against the Central Front ridge. The attack, against a spur of Sniper known as Rocky Point, began at 9:35 p.m.

Patrol clashes flickered elsewhere across the front.

Two hundred Allied warplanes shattered a huge Communist troop center in Northwest Korea Sunday and protecting Sabres knocked at least two MIG jets from the sky.

Night-flying light bombers followed up with attacks on Red transport which the Fifth Air Force said destroyed 35 supply vehicles and knocked out a train.

Twelve Japan-based B29 Superfortresses bombed the 3,800-foot sod runway of the Pyongyang airport Sunday night. Air reconnaissance had indicated that a small "nuisance-type" aircraft might have been using the field.

The 200-plane Allied raid struck earlier than the same area.

Bomber and fighter-bomber pilots reported at least 70 buildings were destroyed and many others heavily damaged at the troop center near the North Korean capital of Pyongyang.

Dense smoke clouds rising from the burning ruins of troop barracks and supply buildings made complete assessment of the damage impossible immediately.

Pilots said their bombs touched off numerous secondary explosions, indicating that valuable ammunition stores also had gone up in smoke.

The planes hit in waves. B26 light bombers were first over the target, at 11 a.m. Behind them came waves of Shooting Stars, Thunderjets and Navy Panther jets, each hitting a carefully plotted section of the target.

Sabre jets, flying protective cover for the bombers, besides downing two MIGs, probably got another and damaged a fourth, the Air Force said.

Metal Filling Causes Pain

By Alton L. Blakeslee
AP Science Reporter

St. Louis (AP) — Electric shocks from filling in your teeth may cause pain and disease of the mouth, the American Association for the Advancement of Science AASAS was told yesterday.

Even a single metal filling can set up an electric current, sometimes of surprising strength, said Dr. William Schriever, professor of physics at the University of Oklahoma, Norman, Okla.

His new study of shocking teeth included exact measurements of the tiny currents, using special equipment.

A single filling of gold or silver amalgam can become a tiny battery or electric cell through contact with saliva and with fluids in the bones, he said. The saliva and bone fluid are electrolytes, and the metal filling acts like a wire between two electrolytes.

Holiday Death Toll Now Over 600 Persons

By The Associated Press

The nation's Christmas holiday death toll passed the 600 mark Sunday.

With only a few hours of the extended weekend left the over-all accident death toll reached 649. Of this number, 481 were traffic victims. Fires were fatal to 72 persons, and 96 died in miscellaneous accidents.

The traffic death mark was just under 100 short of the all-time traffic death record of a holiday—set during the four-day Christmas week-end of 1936. The highest total accident toll for a holiday was 789 last Christmas, with traffic accounting for 535.

The National Safety Council predicted before the 102-hour count began at 6 p.m. local time Wednesday that 590 persons would be killed in traffic mishaps.

"This is as avoidable as it is tragic," said Ned H. Dearborn, president of the council. "Most, if not all of these lives could have been saved by a simple formula: start early, take it easy, be patient and sensible and courteous behind the wheel."

Holiday mishaps claimed the lives of at least 37 persons in Pennsylvania.

A young York couple and a little boy were killed in the head-on crash of two cars three miles south of Red Lion, Pa.

State police identified the victims as Paul Heidelberg, 21; his wife, Edith Romaine, 24, and Edward Sneider, three, all of York.

Walter R. Groeber, 48, Cincinnati, O., was killed and three other persons injured in a crash involving two cars and a truck on Rt. 40 about seven miles west of Washington, Pa.

Of the Pennsylvania total, 29 resulted from highway crashes, four from fires and four from miscellaneous accidents.

Dives Plane To His Death

Sweetwater, Tex. (AP) — A wealthy, 23-year-old ranch operator dived his private plane to his death near here yesterday after arguing for three hours by radio with friends who tried to stop his suicide.

He was Ollie William Cox, owner and operator of the 2,560-acre Double Heart cattle and sheep ranch, 10 miles south of this West Texas town.

Young Cox had a daughter, Karen Kay, 3, and his wife is expecting another child in about one month.

Over the two-way radio he told the Abilene, Tex. Airport control tower over and over that "everything is all messed up."

He told them he was going to crash his plane in a gravel pit near here as soon as the fuel ran out. He did just that.

At 9:55 a.m. CST, as ambulance drivers and officers peered into the brilliant sky, Cox's five passenger Cessna 170 came hurtling down in a steep dive.

The powerful plane went straight into the gravel pit area scattering wreckage for 50 yards as it broke up on the edge of a shallow pit.

Cox owned one of the largest ranches in this area. He was partner with his father in a second and larger ranch of 22,400 acres near Ft. Stockton, Tex., west of the Pecos River. His father, Ollie Cox, operated the larger ranch.

Fine Seeks Revisions

Harrisburg (AP) — Gov. John S. Fine will call for reapportionment of the state's legislative districts and a constitutional convention when the 1953 General Assembly convenes next month, he indicated last night.

"I will ask for enabling legislation for district reapportionment and a convention to discuss revision of our constitution in keeping with the GOP platform under which I was elected," Fine told a newsman.

The Constitution, now 78 years old, limits the number of state senators to 50 and provides for election of representatives by a formula on population.

PSEA Readies Demands For New Increase

Harrisburg (AP) — The Pennsylvania State Education Association readied a demand yesterday for a $200 a year cost of living salary boost for 62,000 school teachers in the state.

The association is expected to approve its legislative committee's recommendations during the three-day convention of the PSEA starting tomorrow.

The demand will then go to the legislature after it convenes Jan. 6.

The legislative committee report, ready for association action, is asking the 124 million salary boost on the grounds that teachers salaries in surrounding states are higher than Pennsylvania's average.

"The estimated average salary in Pennsylvania this year is $3,504," the committee said. "Thousands of teachers with many years of service in the commonwealth are this year receiving $3,100 which is below an acceptable income standard in the present economy."

Harvey E. Gayman, PSEA executive secretary, said the average salary in New York is $4,625, Delaware $4,125 and Maryland $3,960.

The 1951 legislature gave the teachers a $400 a year salary increase, half of which was considered as a cost-of-living boost.

At the same time, it provided for a series of $200 a year automatic step-ups to continue through 1959.

By then, the Chesterman committee forecast, the cost of state aid to school districts, principally for teachers salaries, will jump from the current 286 millions to 488 millions.

The convention, expected to attract 3,000 teachers, also will take up the question of renewing the association's support of a broad-based tax to help pay for increased education costs.

The PSEA backed Gov. John S. Fine's defeated proposal for a one-half of one per cent income tax last year.

The convention also will take up a recommendation that teachers retired prior to July 1, 1950, be given an annual increase in pension benefits at the rate of $5 for each year of service.

Hold Monies From Overseas

Washington (AP) — Sen. Long, D-La., and Sen. Saltonstall, R-Mass., said last night "considerable" money for overseas bases is being held up by the Senate Armed Services Committee pending a further study of the huge construction program.

Neither senator said how much money was involved but the Defense Department said it amounted to between 50 to 60 million dollars for airbases.

Long told a reporter only a small fraction of the amount authorized was being withheld and he added: "Long and Saltonstall, both members of the armed services committee, said in separate interviews they did not believe the committee action would in any way adversely affect national security."

"In spite of wars, more white people die by the knife and fork than by the gun and sword," he said.

A CONNECTICUT COLLEGE STUDENT, Jean Hannay, of Maplewood, N.J., examines an antique steel sea chest which is said to have been used by Benjamin Franklin to carry gold bullion he borrowed in France to finance the American Revolution. Now at the Mystic, Conn., Museum, it will be displayed in the Historical Marine Museum at the 43rd annual National Motor Boat Show opening in New York, Jan. 9.

Senator Is For Across Board Cuts

Sen. Montgomery F. Crowe yesterday pledged himself to a continuation of his fight for across-the-board cuts in funds in the cost of State government.

Cost-cutting suggestions endorsed by Crowe stem mostly from a study, nearly completed, of activities of the State government by a committee under the supervision of Francis J. Chesterman, Philadelphia executive.

Sen. Crowe's endorsement of economy ideas followed a similar effort on his part to bring about fund cuts in the 1951 session of the General Assembly.

The Monroe county senator said last night he favored cuts in funds in "all departments," recommending especially that economy measures be enacted in education, welfare and public assistance.

Indications in Harrisburg over the weekend were that some of the Chesterman committee's recommendations may be in for tough sledding before the Assembly, however.

Opposition to drastic cuts in funds was already developing. Rep. Edward Dunn of Northumberland, a Republican, said he may not oppose increased taxes if it is a question of abandoning State-supported schools.

"I'm not going for anything that will mean increased human misery just to balance the budget," Dunn said. "Should the need for increased revenues be shown to me I would rather support any move to increase taxes or find new taxes so they could be maintained."

Major economy recommendations which will come before the Assembly include dropping the State's 10 general hospitals in the coal regions; reducing the State teachers' colleges from 14 to seven in number; stripping boards of trustees of State institutions of much authority and dropping the State-supported schools at Scotland, Lancaster and Erie.

Most of these potential "cuts" face opposition from the localities in which they are situated, officials believe.

Ideas for economizing on government cost now number in the scores and, if enacted, would result in savings of millions of dollars.

These proposed cuts range from a merger of departments and dropping some State services to streamlining purchase for State institutions.

The economy reports resulting from the Chesterman group study are now being prepared for submission to the 1953 session of the legislature when it convenes on Jan. 6.

Lawmakers will apparently be faced with a hard choice during the session—either "raise State taxes" or "cut the cost of government operations."

Indications during the past month have been that the State budget will be "out of balance" by some 200 million dollars, at least, when it is presented to Gov. John S. Fine on Jan. 26.

Fine, himself, has estimated that 135 million dollars will be needed to finance obligations already authorized, including increases in teachers' salaries and retirement of State bonds.

Sen. Crowe—who fought a virtual one-man battle during most of the 1951 session for government economy—was joined in an endorsement of proposed fund cuts last night by at least one other Assembly member.

Rep. A. V. Capano, a Democrat of Washington, declared that "millions of dollars could be saved" by improved methods of operation, eliminating duplicated, unimportant or unnecessary services and "casting off the dead wood—that is, jobs which are purely political in nature."

The Chesterman committee, sometimes called the "Little Hoover Commission," hit the front pages last month with a report on education which heavily criticized the education department and said State teachers' colleges "are not fulfilling their original purpose" of training teachers.

In another report, the committee has recommended turning State-owned general hospitals at Ashland, Blossburg, Coaldale, Conneville, Hazleton, Locust Mountain, Nanticoke, Phillipsburg, Scranton and Shamokin in the coal regions over to local control and financing.

Leap Year a Dud, Statistics Show; Marriages in '52 Hit 20-Year Low

By Jerry Klein
Central Press Correspondent
New York—Leap Year is almost over, but a local life insurance company says it has been a bust.

As a matter of fact, the company says, unless girls show an amazing burst of speed these last few days, 1952 will go down as a total loss—marriage-wise.

The insurance company made a survey of marriages and found that not only has Leap Year not seen more weddings than normal, it has produced fewer.

The figures show that despite the privilege girls had this year of speaking their minds on matrimony, weddings are being performed at a lower rate than any time in 20 years.

It is enough to make St. Patrick spin in his grave. That's right, St. Patrick. Besides ridding Ireland of snakes, he began the custom of giving the ladies the right to propose during Leap Years.

Soon after driving out the snakes, St. Patrick was visited by a representative of the fair sex. She complained that the way the world was being run, women were forbidden by custom to do any proposing and she asked the saint to correct the situation.

St. Patrick agreed that women should have the right to pop the question without being embarrassed one year out of four—starting immediately.

St. Patrick also is said to have decreed that any man who refuses a woman's Leap Year proposal must "pay the penalty of a silk gown and a kiss."

So any of you girls who've hesitated might just as well make the proposal right away. If he says "yes," you've got yourself a husband. If he says "no," he's bound to come across with that silk gown and a kiss. Either way, you can't lose.

Girls for whom Leap Year didn't result in a walk to the altar also were benefitted by an old Scottish the chance to get away before marriage-minded lassies could so much as open their mouths.

The Scottish parliament decreed that "everie ladie that goes a wooing must wear a scarlet flannel petticoat, the edge of which must be clearly seen." One look at the red signal, and the single man bent on staying that way would be off and running.

Incidentally, not only Scotland had laws regulating the behavior of men and women during Leap Year. So did France, England and the city-states of Genoa and Florence.

Actually, the reluctance of some men to marry is hard to understand. Doctors tell us time and again how much healthier it is to be wed.

For example, a British physician recently reported that bachelors die before married men, are more likely to have ulcers and "fail to stand up as well to financial crisis." The physician, Dr. Philip Tynan, said incorrigible bachelors fall into two main groups:

1)—Men in a rut who don't know they're in one.

2)—Men who never find any one quite good enough, or who never think themselves quite good enough for the girl.

Incidentally, Dr. Tynan is quite a successful physician. He's good-looking, 35 years old—and unmarried.

Death Prevents Pope From Full College Of Cardinals; First In Some 200 Years

Vatican City (AP)—Death yesterday again prevented Pope Pius XII from having a full 70-member College of Cardinals.

Carlo Agostini, 64-year-old patriarch of Venice, died 15 days before he was to have received his red hat, distinctive emblem of a cardinal, at a secret consistory. He was designated for the high office, along with 23 others, on Nov. 29.

Technically, the Pope could name another person to the vacancy before the Jan. 12 consistory, but in keeping with his procedure in 1946 is not expected to do so.

There has been no full College of Cardinals in 200 years. Unlike his modern predecessors, who kept some vacancies for emergency purposes, Pope Pius aimed at a "plenum"—full college—at both the great consistories of his reign.

At his first, in Feb. 1946, the Pope gave the red hat to 32 prelates—the highest number ever to receive it at one time. But the death of Pietro Cardinal Boetto two weeks before the consistory prevented a plenum.

Donora Fog Is Studied

London (AP)—A study of the Donora, Pa., smog of 1948 which killed 19 persons may be used to help combat London's disastrous smoke-laden fogs.

A U. S. Embassy spokesman in London said yesterday the Dohora report would be sent to Laborite member of Parliament Norman Dodds, who asked for it in preparing an all-out campaign against London's smogs.

Brisk winds chased most of yesterday's smoke-filled fog out of Britain today. Holidays visitors who overstayed yesterday fearing they would be marooned in the dark all tried to get home at once today and traffic facilities were jammed.

Jobless Fund Record High

Washington (AP)—The amount of money available for jobless benefits to workers covered by state unemployment insurance laws has reached a record $8,400,000,000, the Labor Department announced yesterday.

The money is held either in the federal unemployment trust fund, to the individual account of each state, or in the states themselves. These latter amounts are funds which the states have withdrawn from their accounts in the federal fund but have not yet spent.

The Bureau of Employment Security, an arm of the Labor Department, said the total amount available has grown by more than 500 million dollars this year, mainly because of consistently high employment and an increase in the number of workers covered by state laws.

Vicar Holds Services In Empty Church

London (AP)—Eighteen years ago the vicar in the village of Warleggan in Cornwall and his parishioners quarreled because he would not let them use the rectory for a card game tournament.

Last Christmas morning the vicar conducted the strangest Christmas church service in all England. The Rev. Frederick W. Denham, attired in surplice and cassock, mounted the pulpit of his little granite church, recited the Church of England service, sang the prescribed hymns, read the Christmas lesson and preached on the charity of the season.

But he was all alone in his church, as he has been for the past 18 years, boycotted by the 160 odd men, women and children of his hamlet on the Bodin moors.

After the quarrel over the card game tournament, there was a general bishop's inquiry which exonerated the vicar.

"My flock said I conducted Holy

Alexandrine Of Denmark Dies In Sleep

Copenhagen, Denmark (AP)—Queen Mother Alexandrine, who reigned as Denmark's Queen through two world wars, died in her sleep yesterday, five days after her 73rd birthday. King Frederik IX was at the bedside of his mother, who underwent a major operation 12 days ago.

Denmark immediately went into mourning. The state radio broadcast tolling bells and solemn organ

Communion with black gloves and all sorts of things," said the 83-year-old vicar, smiling. "They are always asking me to resign but I have no intention of giving up."

As long as he obeys the church laws and holds his regular services he cannot be forced to quit.

And, he added, "they all come to me in the end. I conduct all their funerals."

music, flags were lowered to half staff throughout the country, and thousands assembled silently in the street outside the hospital where death came. Many were weeping.

Alexandrine was born in Germany to the House of Mecklenburg-Schwerin and married Christian X of Denmark in 1898 while he was crown prince. She became Queen in 1912 and reigned until 1947, when Christian died. Her first years in Denmark were afflicted by the prevailing anti-German attitude of the Danes, but she won them over.

Will Ask For Passport Revocation

Washington (AP)—Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) said yesterday he will ask the new Republican administration to strip William O'Dwyer, former New York City mayor, of his passport to Mexico, where he served as ambassador until recently.

Watkins conceded that might not necessarily force O'Dwyer to return to this country, where he has been under fire of the New York Crime Commission and the Senate Crime Investigating Committee.

"But it is a first step, and we should take it," Watkins told a reporter.

O'Dwyer drew sharp comments from the Senate committee in 1951 when it named him as a friend of gangsters while mayor of New York. A current investigation of racketeering on the New York waterfront by the State Crime Commission also has involved O'Dwyer's name.

Says Report Is Not True

New York (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur yesterday described as "inaccurate and misleading" a reported statement by President Truman Saturday that he had relieved MacArthur as Far East commander because the general "wanted to involve us in an all-out war in the Far East."

The United Press quoted the President as making the statement in an interview the President gave to its White House correspondent. It was one of a series of year-end interviews with White House correspondents.

MacArthur's comment, issued by his aide, Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, follows:

"President Truman's statement yesterday, as reported in the press, that I 'wanted to involve us in an all-out war in the Far East' is inaccurate and misleading.

"My purpose and desire was not to extend the war but only to end it. At that time, this could have been accomplished with only a fraction of the approximately 70,000 American battle casualties which have since resulted. Actually, the longer it lasts the greater the chance of its spreading. How anyone could use such a bloody drama as a means of self-glorification is quite beyond my comprehension."

Test Of Incodel Plan For Delaware River Dams Next Year

Legislature Expected To Make Decision

Next year is likely to be the last for Pennsylvania to make up its mind about supporting Incodel.

Incodel is the official name for the four-state group which studied ways of controlling and conserving water in the Delaware Valley.

New York, New Jersey and Delaware have in effect said "yes" to Incodel plans. Pennsylvania has said nothing.

Since the last Pennsylvania legislative session in 1951, New York City petitioned the U. S. Supreme Court for permission to go ahead on its own with a project for developing and diverting the waters of the upper Delaware basin in New York State.

If the request is granted Incodel officials think New York's plan will leave it disinterested in the broader four-state program. If the request is denied, New York may turn to the Hudson for its water. Either way could spell "finish" to the Incodel proposal.

The original study by Incodel cost a little less than $200,000.

The findings of the study were filed in January 1951, just before Gov. John S. Fine took office.

Since then New York, New Jersey and Delaware have joined in a compact which creates an agency to carry out an Incodel-type four-state water project.

The project can't be started, however, until Pennsylvania approves. Next year will be its last chance until 1955. And 1955, Incodel officials think, would be too late.

During 1952 Gov. Fine appointed a committee which hired a firm (for $350,000) to make an "independent appraisal" of the Incodel plan.

Gov. Fine's committee members said they would file a "full and complete report" with the governor before the end of 1952.

Presumably the governor would put the committee's findings before State legislature next year.

Industrial development in the Delaware Valley basin during 1952 rose high above its already gigantic proportions.

The new Fairless Works of the U. S. Steel Co., just below Morrisville, is the largest integrated steel plant on earth ever built at one time. Its initial capacity will reach 1,800,000 net tons a year.

Its capacity could be doubled in the future.

In the initial stage, however, the plant will draw 250 million gallons of water daily from the tidal section of the Delaware River.

The four-state water project proposed by Incodel will probably meet with agreement if not support on the part of Federal authorities next year. President-elect Eisenhower has said publicly he thinks river basin projects should be handled by means of interstate compacts.

Briefly, the Incodel plan involves building a series of reservoirs or impounding dams in the upper reaches of the Delaware.

The first phase of the project would call for reservoirs created by constructing dams at these points:

- One—Wallpack Bend, near Bushkill.
- Two—Barryville, N. Y., opposite Shohola, Pike County.
- Three—near Hancock, N. Y.
- Four—northeast of Port Jervis, N. Y.

The reservoirs created will be called, respectively, Wallpack Bend Reservoir, Barryville Reservoir, Cannonsville Reservoir and Godefroy Reservoir.

Phase two of the project calls for dams at Fish Eddy, N. Y., and at Flatbrookville, N. J., a community about two miles south of Egypt Mills, Pa., or two miles east of Bushkill.

The reservoirs would end two expensive headaches for all the communities and industries situated along the Delaware from New York to the ocean.

One is the recurrent water shortage during summer months. The other is the runaway floods which rush to the sea during excessively wet spells.

A comparison was noted in the

ONE OF THE BRIGHTEST HOLIDAY decorations appearing in the Stroudsburgs during the Christmas-New Year season this year was this three-panel window painting by Pattie, 18 and Tommy McCain, 13, the children of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. McCain, 415 Shook Ave., Stroudsburg. The figure on the left is an English "Pixie" from folk legends while the center windowpane carries a painting of a reindeer and the right pane holds a depiction of the fading "old year" and the incoming "new year." Pattie is responsible for the pixie and the candles; Tommy did the reindeer. The window paintings were a part of numerous decorations done by the McCain children for the holiday season, including a large mirror-painting of the Nativity scene by Pattie over the mantel of their home. Christmas Bulbs Return After Holiday Snatching Spoils Tree Decorations

A couple of Stroudsburg families had trouble with their Christmas tree lights this year—somebody kept stealing them.

The case of the purloined bulbs did not come to light until after Christmas. Both thefts reported were located on Brown St. in Stroudsburg.

Christmas thieves showed up for the first time, appropriately enough, on Christmas night, shortly after 10:30 p.m.

That was the time the G. E. Shanley family at 519 Brown St. turned off the lights on its tree on the front porch.

Paying a brief, nocturnal visit to the Shanleys' front porch, the thieves (or thief) walked off with a fistful of the tiny candle-like bulbs. About 15 bulbs disappeared that first night from the Shanley porch.

Next door at 515 Brown St., the home of Elwood Hintze, a batch of ten bulbs disappeared that same night.

The following morning, when the Shanleys noticed the mysterious theft, they replaced the missing bulbs with new ones and hoped the tree would be left alone.

Their hopes were in vain, however.

Friday night the thieves returned and lifted an additional 20 bulbs from the tree.

The Shanleys were left with three lights at the top of the tree, peering down like lonely eyes out of the topmost branches. All the bulbs from the rest of the sockets were gone.

The visitors stayed away from the Hintze household on the second night.

Saturday and Sunday, the Shanleys discussed the theft with friends who had dropped in. The tree continued to stand on the doorstep, minus its seasonal decorations.

Last night at 6:30, some friends paid a call to the Shanley home. A volume of water which passed over Trenton Falls, N. J. on two days this year.

During the dry spell of November, the flow was 1,700 million gallons. Thirty-six days later -- the Dec. 12 flood -- the flow rocketed to near 100,000 million gallons.

The dams and reservoirs will be situated to catch and hold such flood water. The reserve would then be released during the next dry period to raise the river level.

Zero Mark Is Officially Recorded

The thermometer took a nose-dive over the weekend.

An official reading at the Mount Pocono airport by manager H. J. Davis, showed a "low" of two degrees below zero Saturday night.

Temperatures hovered in the "zero or below" area throughout the county.

A drop in temperature Saturday morning, followed by a sudden rise, resulted in snow flurries in the lower regions around the two Stroudsburgs and in the mountainous areas near Mount Pocono, Effort and Swiftwater.

For the most part, the flurries were brief. Roads were reportedly "slick" near Mount Pocono, but no serious hazards were noted by the residents of that area.

Yesterday's "high" temperature was 14 degrees above at the airport in Mount Pocono.

Elsewhere in Pennsylvania the story was the same. No storm conditions were reported, although northern counties had some snow. Temperatures ranged from zero at Philadelphia in Centre County to a high of 17 in Erie.

The forecast of the weather station at Philadelphia is for continued cold. No potential storms are predicted for today.

Damages Are High After Collision

Damages totaled about $325 Saturday when two cars collided on W. Main St., Stroudsburg, at 6:55 p.m.

There were no injuries, said Stroudsburg police.

Lewis C. Hawley, 22, Stroudsburg RD1, was parked at the curb facing west, police said, with his wife and two children in the car.

Walter Dickison, 37, of 28 N. Tenth St., Stroudsburg, was driving west, also with wife and two children as passengers.

Police said Hawley started to pull out from the curb with the intention of turning around when the collision took place. The Dickison car's right front hit the Hawley auto in its left side.

Damages were estimated as $150 to the Dickison auto and the rest to the Hawley car. Both vehicles were driven from the scene. Police said investigation "is continuing."

Lehman Blasts McCarran Law As Booby Trap

New York (AP)—Herbert H. Lehman (D, Lib.-N.Y.) said last night the new McCarran-Walter Immigration Law, if strictly and literally enforced, "presents an obstacle course which no alien can surmount."

Lehman, one of the leading opponents to the act in Congress, asserted the law "is loaded with booby traps."

The New York senator's remarks were in a speech prepared for delivery at the 57th annual Gold Medal Award Dinner of the Jewish War Veterans of the United States of America. The organization honored Lehman as the recipient of the 1952 medal.

Lehman described the United States as "a nation of immigrants and their descendants." He said the McCarran Act "directly and cruelly denies all that America is and stands for."

It is estimated that the sale of Christmas trees throughout the world is a 50-million-dollar industry, says the National Geographic Society.

Leap Year a Dud, Statistics Show; Marriages in '52 Hit 20-Year Low

By Jerry Klein
Central Press Correspondent
New York—Leap Year is almost over, but a local life insurance company says it has been a bust.

As a matter of fact, the company says, unless girls show an amazing burst of speed these last few days, 1952 will go down as a total loss—marriage-wise.

The insurance company made a survey of marriages and found that not only has Leap Year not seen more weddings than normal, it has produced fewer.

The figures show that despite the privilege girls had this year of speaking their minds on matrimony, weddings are being performed at a lower rate than any time in 20 years!

It is enough to make St. Patrick spin in his grave, that's right, St. Patrick. Besides ridding Ireland of snakes, he began the custom of giving the ladies the right to propose during Leap Years.

Soon after driving out the snakes, St. Patrick was visited by a representative of the fair sex. She complained that the way the world was being run, women were forbidden by custom to do any proposing and she asked the saint to correct the situation.

St. Patrick agreed that women should have the right to pop the question without being embarrassed one year out of four—starting immediately.

St. Patrick also is said to have decreed that any man who refuses a woman's Leap Year—proposal, must "pay the penalty of a silk gown and a kiss."

So any of you girls who've hesitated might just as well make the proposal right away. If he says "yes," you've got yourself a husband. If he says "no," he's bound to come across with that silk gown and a kiss. Either way, you can't lose.

Girls for whom Leap Year didn't result in a walk to the altar also were benefitted by an old Scottish law. It provided that men who didn't answer "lepe yeare" proposals with engagement rings must cough up one pound in cash, instead.

That seems to have mad Leap Year pretty rough on Scottish bachelors. However, Scotland tried to even things up by giving men the chance to get away before marriage-minded lassies could so much as open their mouths.

The Scottish parliament decreed that "everie ladie that goes a wooing must wear a scarlet flannel petticoate, the edge of which must be cleare seen." One look at the red signal, and the single man bent on staying that way would be off and running.

Incidentally, not only Scotland had laws regulating the behavior of men and women during Leap Year. So did France, England and the city-states of Genoa and Florence.

Actually, the reluctance of some men to marry is hard to understand. Doctors tell us time and again how much healthier it is to be wed.

For example, a British physician recently reported that bachelors die before married men, are more likely to have ulcers and "fail to stand up as well to financial crisis." The physician, Dr. Philip Tynan, said incorrigible bachelors fall into two main groups:

1)—Men in a rut who don't know they're in one.
2)—Men who never find any one quite good enough, or who never think themselves quite good enough for the girl.

Incidentally, Dr. Tynan is quite a successful physician. He's good-looking, 35 years old—and unmarried.

Death Prevents Pope From Full College Of Cardinals; First In Some 200 Years

Vatican City (AP)—Death yesterday again prevented Pope Pius XII from having a full 70-member College of Cardinals.

Carlo Agostini, 64-year-old patriarch of Venice, died 15 days before he was to have received his red hat, distinctive emblem of a cardinal, at a secret consistory. He was designated for the high office, along with 23 others, on Nov. 29.

Technically, the Pope could name another person to the vacancy before the Jan. 12 consistory, but in keeping with his procedure in 1945 is not expected to do so.

There has been no full College of Cardinals in 200 years. Unlike his modern predecessors, who kept some vacancies for emergency purposes, Pope Pius aimed at a "plenitudo"—full college—at both the great consistories of his reign.

At his first, in Feb. 1946, the Pope gave the red hat to 32 prelates—the highest number ever to receive it at one time. But the death of Pietro Cardinal Boetto two weeks before the consistory prevented a plenitudo.

The Bureau of Employment Security, an arm of the Labor Department, said the total amount available has grown by more than $500 million dollars this year, mainly because of consistently high unemployment and an increase in the number of workers covered by state laws.

The money is held either in the federal unemployment trust fund, to the individual account of each state, or in the states themselves. These latter amounts are funds which the states have withdrawn from their accounts in the federal fund but have not yet spent.

Brisk winds chased most of yesterday's smoke-filled fog out of Britain today. Holidays visitors who overstayed yesterday fearing they would be marooned in the muck all tried to get home at once today and traffic facilities were jammed.

Vicar Holds Services In Empty Church

London (AP)—Eighteen years ago the vicar in the village of Warleggan in Cornwall and his parishioners quarreled because he would not let them use the rectory for a card game tournament.

Last Christmas morning the vicar conducted the strangest Christmas church service in all England. The Rev. Frederick W. Densham, attired in surplice and cassock, mounted the pulpit of his little granite church, recited the Church of England service, sang the prescribed hymns, read the Christmas lesson and preached on the charity of the season.

But he was all alone in his church, as he has been for the past 18 years, boycotted by the 160 odd men, women and children of his hamlet on the Bodin moors.

After the quarrel over the card game tournament, there was a general bishop's inquiry which exonerated the vicar.

Alexandrine Of Denmark Dies In Sleep

Copenhagen, Denmark (AP)—Queen Mother Alexandrine, who reigned as Denmark's Queen through two world wars, died in her sleep yesterday, five days after her 73rd birthday. King Frederik IX was at the bedside of his mother, who underwent a major operation 12 days ago.

Denmark immediately went into mourning. The state radio broadcast tolling bells and solemn organ

Communion with black gloves and all sorts of things," said the 83-year-old vicar, smiling. "They are always asking me to resign but I have no intention of giving up."

As long as he obeys the church laws and holds his regular services he cannot be forced to quit.

And, he added, "they all come to me in the end. I conduct all their funerals."

music, flags were lowered to half staff throughout the country, and thousands assembled silently in the street outside the hospital where death came. Many were weeping.

Alexandrine was born in Germany to the House of Mecklenburg-Schwerin and married Christian X of Denmark in 1898 while he was crown prince. She became Queen in 1912 and reigned until 1947, when Christian died. Her first years in Denmark were afflicted by the prevailing anti-German attitude of the Danes, but she won them over.

Will Ask For Passport Revocation

Washington (AP)—Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) said yesterday he will ask the new Republican administration to strip William O'Dwyer, former New York City mayor, of his passport to Mexico, where he served as ambassador until recently.

Watkins conceded that might not necessarily force O'Dwyer to return to this country, where he has been under fire of the New York Crime Commission and the Senate Crime Investigating Committee.

"But it is a first step, and—should take it," Watkins told a reporter.

O'Dwyer drew sharp comments from the Senate committee in 1951 when it named him as a friend of gangsters while mayor of New York. A current investigation of racketeering on the New York waterfront by the State Crime Commission also has involved O'Dwyer's name.

Says Report Is Not True

New York (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur yesterday described as "inaccurate and misleading" a reported statement by President Truman Saturday that he had relieved MacArthur as Far East commander because "the general wanted to involve us in an all-out war in the Far East."

The United Press quoted the President as making the statement in an interview the President gave to its White House correspondent. It was one of a series of year-end interviews with White House correspondents.

MacArthur's comment, issued by his aide, Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, follows:

"President Truman's statement yesterday, as reported in the press, that I wanted to involve us in an all-out war in the Far East is inaccurate and misleading."

"My purpose and desire was not to extend the war but only to end it. At that time, this could have been accomplished with only a fraction of the approximately 70,000 American battle casualties which have since resulted. Actually, the longer it lasts the greater the chance of its spreading. How anyone could use such a bloody drama as a means of self-glorification is quite beyond my comprehension."

Test Of Incodel Plan For Delaware River Dams Next Year

Legislature Expected To Make Decision

Next year is likely to be the last for Pennsylvania to make up its mind about supporting Incodel.

Incodel is the official name for the four-state group which studied ways of controlling and conserving water in the Delaware Valley.

New York, New Jersey and Delaware have in effect said "yes" to Incodel plans. Pennsylvania has said nothing.

Since the last Pennsylvania legislative session in 1951, New York City petitioned the U. S. Supreme Court for permission to go ahead on its own with a project for developing and diverting the waters of the upper Delaware basin in New York State.

If the request is granted Incodel officials think New York's plan will leave it disinterested in the broader four-state program. If the request is denied, New York may turn to the Hudson for its water. Either way could spell "finish" to the Incodel proposal.

The original study by Incodel cost a little less than $200,000.

The findings of the study were filed in January 1951, just before Gov. John S. Fine took office.

Since then New York, New Jersey and Delaware have joined in a compact which creates an agency to carry out an Incodel-type four-state water project.

The project can't be started, however, until Pennsylvania approves. Next year will be its last chance until 1955. And 1955, Incodel officials think, would be too late.

During 1952 Gov. Fine appointed a committee which hired a firm (for $350,000) to make an "independent appraisal" of the Incodel plan.

Gov. Fine's committee members said they would file a "full and complete report" with the governor before the end of 1952.

Presumably the governor would put the committee's findings before State legislature next year.

Industrial development in the Delaware Valley basin during 1952 rose high above its already gigantic proportions.

The new Fairless Works of the U. S. Steel Co., just below Morrisville, is the largest integrated steel plant on earth ever built at one time. Its initial capacity will reach 1,800,000 net tons a year.

Its capacity could be doubled in the future.

In the initial stage, however, the plant will draw 250 million gallons of water daily from the tidal section of the Delaware River.

The four-state water project proposed by Incodel will probably meet with agreement if not support on the part of Federal authorities next year. President-elect Eisenhower has said publicly he thinks river basin projects should be handled by means of interstate compacts.

Briefly, the Incodel plan involves building a series of reservoirs or impounding dams in the upper reaches of the Delaware.

The first phase of the project would call for reservoirs created by constructing dams at these points:

One—Wallpack Bend, near Bushkill.

Two—Barryville, N. Y., opposite Shohola, Pike County.

Three—near Hancock, N. Y.

ONE OF THE BRIGHTEST HOLIDAY decorations appearing in the Stroudsburgs during the Christmas-New Year season this year was this three-panel window painting by Pattie, 18 and Tommy McCain, 13, the children of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. McCain, 415 Shook Ave., Stroudsburg. The figure on the left is an English "Pixie" from folk legends while the center windowpane carries a painting of a reindeer and the right pane holds a depiction of the fading "old year" and the incoming "new year." Pattie is responsible for the pixie and the candles; Tommy did the reindeer. The window paintings were a part of numerous decorations done by the McCain children for the holiday season, including a large mirror-painting of the Nativity scene by Pattie over the mantel of their home. Christmas Bulbs Return After Holiday Snatching Spoils Tree Decorations

A couple of Stroudsburg families had trouble with their Christmas tree lights this year—somebody kept stealing them.

The case of the purloined bulbs did not come to light until after Christmas. Both thefts reported were located on Brown St. in Stroudsburg.

Christmas thieves showed up for the first time, appropriately enough, on Christmas night, shortly after 10:30 p.m.

That was the time the G. E. Shanley family at 519 Brown St. turned off the lights on its tree on the front porch.

Paying a brief, nocturnal visit to the Shanleys' front porch, the thieves (or thief) walked off with a fistful of the tiny candle-like bulbs. About 15 bulbs disappeared that first night from the Shanley porch.

Next door at 515 Brown St., the home of Elwood Hintze, a batch of ten bulbs disappeared that same night.

The following morning, when the Shanleys noticed the mysterious theft, they replaced the missing bulbs with new ones and hoped the tree would be left alone.

Their hopes were in vain, however.

Friday night the thieves returned and lifted an additional 20 bulbs from the tree.

The Shanleys were left with three lights at the top of the tree, peering down like lonely eyes out of the topmost branches. All the bulbs from the rest of the sockets were gone.

The visitors stayed away from the Hintze household on the second night.

Saturday and Sunday, the Shanleys discussed the theft with friends who had dropped in. The tree continued to stand on the doorstep, minus its seasonal decorations.

Last night at 6:30, some friends paid a call to the Shanley home. A volume of water which passed over Trenton Falls, N. J. on two days this year.

During the dry spell of November, the flow was 1,700 million gallons. Thirty-six days later — the Dec. 12 flood — the flow rocketed to near 100,000 million gallons.

The dams and reservoirs will be situated to catch and hold such flood water. The reserve would then be released during the next dry period to raise the river level.

The reservoirs created will be called, respectively, Wallpack Bend Reservoir, Barryville Reservoir, Cannonsville Reservoir and Godfrey Reservoir.

Phase two of the project calls for dams at Fishs Eddy, N. Y., and at Flatbrookville, N. J., a community about two miles south of Egypt Mills, Pa., or two miles east of Bushkill.

Police Seek Hit-And-Run Car Driver

Police are seeking the driver of a car which struck another and failed to stop at 7:35 p.m. Saturday on Route 209 near Fenners Greenhouse, a few miles west of Stroudsburg.

William L. Stout Jr., 35, a machinist who lives at 1139 W. Main St., Stroudsburg, told Stroudsburg State police he was driving east at the time.

The other vehicle overtook and passed him, Stout said. In passing, however, the other car scraped the Stout vehicle. Damage to Stout's left front fender, fender and bumper was estimated at $150, police said. There were no injuries and Stout's car was not forced off the road.

The other car kept on going, police said, adding that the vehicle was believed to be owned locally.

The Saar has a population of about 900 per square mile.

Zero Mark Is Officially Recorded

The thermometer took a nose-dive over the weekend.

An official reading at the Mount Pocono airport by manager H. J. Davis, showed a "low" of two degrees below zero Saturday night.

Temperatures hovered in the "zero or below" area throughout the county.

A drop in temperature Saturday morning, followed by a sudden rise, resulted in snow flurries in the lower regions around the two Stroudsburgs and in the mountainous areas near Mount Pocono, Effort and Swiftwater.

For the most part, the flurries were brief. Roads were reportedly "slick" near Mount Pocono, but no serious hazards were noted by the residents of that area.

Yesterday's "high" temperature was 14 degrees above at the airport in Mount Pocono.

Elsewhere in Pennsylvania the story was the same. No storm conditions were reported, although northern counties had some snow. Temperatures ranged from zero at Philadelphia in Centre County to a high of 17 in Erie.

The forecast of the weather station at Philadelphia is for continued cold. No potential storms are predicted for today.

Damages Are High After Collision

Damages totalled about $325 Saturday when two cars collided on W. Main St., Stroudsburg, at 6:55 p.m.

There were no injuries, said Stroudsburg police.

Lewis C. Hawley, 22, Stroudsburg RD1, was parked at the curb facing west, police said, with his wife and two children in the car.

Walter Dickisson, 37, of 28 N. Tenth St., Stroudsburg, was driving west, also with wife and two children as passengers.

Police said Hawley started to pull out from the curb with the intention of turning around when the collision took place. The Dickisson car's right front hit the Hawley auto in its left side.

Damages were estimated as $150 to the Dickisson auto and the rest to the Hawley car. Both vehicles were driven from the scene, Police said investigation "is continuing."

Lehman Blasts McCarran Law As Booby Trap

New York (AP)—Herbert H. Lehman (D, Lib.-N.Y.) said last night the new McCarran-Walter Immigration Law, if strictly and literally enforced, "presents an obstacle course" which no alien can surmount.

Lehman, one of the leading opponents to the act in Congress, asserted the law "is loaded with booby traps."

The New York senator's remarks were in a speech prepared for delivery at the 57th annual Gold Medal Award Dinner of the Jewish War Veterans of the United States of America. The organization honored Lehman as the recipient of the 1952 medal.

Lehman described the United States as "a nation of immigrants and their descendants." He said the McCarran Act "directly and cruelly denies all that America is and stands for."

It is estimated that the sale of Christmas trees throughout the world is a 50-million-dollar industry, says the National Geographic Society.

Too Much for Too Few

We were saddened as we read in the December issue of the Disabled American Veterans' newspaper that of 125,000 Korean casualties, about 21,000 were World War II veterans—of whom 3,600 were killed in action.

And the DAV comments:

"So men who served their Nation bravely and survived were killed again, and served again, and died."

"Every day, the figures grow and the blot on the Nation's fairness spreads."

"The Congress has hedged on the UMT (Universal Military Training) program for all able-bodied young men on high school graduation, which would build up a large non-veteran reserve. But don't let anybody tell you that UMT is dead!"

"The DAV has never hedged. We are for UMT and we will fight to get it passed. We hope that every disabled veteran in America, especially Korean veterans, will urge UMT on their congressmen."

It is regrettable that intervals, between the periods in which we have had to take up arms in our constant championship of our principles, have been so short that it has been the rule, rather than the exception, for the veterans of one war to serve in the next. Yet in time of great need, the presence of such veterans has given strength, flowing from experience, that otherwise would have been missing.

It is likely that if we had had UMT well-established in 1950, the percentage of veterans in the ranks of the armed forces today would have been within reasonable range of the present.

Friend of the World

Many nations of the world, not a few of them recipients of open-handed American generosity, seem impelled to take a dim view of Uncle Sam and to delight in looking down their noses at him because he has so many dollars.

This viewpoint is difficult to accept, in light of the aid our country has given so many of the other nations, but despite their ungrateful attitude towards our government we do not see how they can assume the same attitude towards our service men temporarily stationed in their lands.

For one of the greatest news stories of the Christmas season was that telling of American GIs in Germany spending a new record sum of more than $175,000 on Christmas gifts of food, clothing and toys for needy Germans.

All across the German countryside, where less than a decade ago the soldiers of the Reich strutted in confident arrogance, our men have planned Christmas parties for the orphaned and the needy, many of them refugees from the Iron Curtain areas.

Across the world there is the same kind of news from Korea, too, where our men have gone all out to provide a happier Christmas for the youngsters of that stricken peninsula who lost parents, home, everything that means so much to us at this happy season in our homeland.

So, whatever they may say about a grasping, avaricious old Uncle Sam . . . and this we resent . . . they can say nothing about our young and able representatives of the armed services who are so fully demonstrating the true Christian spirit of unselfish giving.

During his entire reign of 10 years, Richard the Lion Hearted spent little more than six months in England, his native land.

The Once Over

—By H. I. Phillips

Prophecy For 1953

January—1,577,392 fathers injured through tripping on Junior's Christmas toys will be pronounced fit to resume work.

There will be extreme cold in Minnesota, Illinois, Maine and the immoderate carrying Harry and Ike to the White House for the inaugural.

A Republican will enter the White House for the first time in a generation. Mr. Truman will declare the whole thing demagoguery. Russia will exorcise the USA.

February—President Eisenhower will take immediate steps for restoring the ancient American regard for thrift, a proper concern for tomorrow, a decent respect for simple arithmetic and a wholesome fear of wastefulness. Millions of people will have to go to the dictionary to find out what he is talking about. There will be threats to deport Albert Anastasia, Frank Costello and others. Radio and video will go through the annual motions of applying a corset to cut down crime and horror telecasts into the homes of America. Owen Lattimore will declare his innocence.

March—Chlorophyll will be put into house paint. It will be announced that it preserves the nails in the roof and eliminates cooling odors. Frank Sinatra and Ava Gardner will be reported separating. Billy Rose will accuse Eleanor Holmes of looting Casa Rose, or vice versa. There will be talk of cutting taxes. Ex-President Truman will call it demagoguery. Russia will announce that Iva Pokeliev, a button-hole maker, invented the airplane, television, the telephone and the zipper. Vishinsky will exorcise the free world.

April—It will be announced that chlorophyll has been put into a hair tonic to make the human skull stronger and purify the inside of a hat. New York's probe into waterfront crime will celebrate its 45th season. There will be talk of deporting Anastasia, Costello and Meyer Lansky.

May—Efforts to reduce taxes will show marked progress. Mr. Truman will pronounce it demagoguery. Charlie Dessen of the Dodgers, Owen Lattimore of Johns Hopkins and Bill O'Dwyer of Mexico City will announce "We won't blow it this year."

June—Frankie Sinatra and Ava Gardner will be reported separated. A couple will win $3,470 on a Groucho Marx program by giving the correct answer to "What was the first name of a famous patriot whose last name was Reverse and who rode a horse from Boston to Lexington?" It will be announced that chlorophyll has been added to a breakfast cereal and found to extend the life of tablecloths and eliminate the smell of printing ink from boxtops.

July—Russia will exorcise the free world and baseball.

August—There will be talk of deporting Anastasia and Costello. September—See July and August.

October—Same as August.

November—Somebody will sue Standard of New Jersey and all the Du Ponts. Harvard will get even with Yale by letting a girl drum major score the point after touchdown.

December—President Eisenhower will conclude a successful year as President. Mr. Truman will pronounce the whole thing pure demagoguery. Russia will denounce football, ice hockey, the free world, Senator Wiley and Christmas. A way will be found to put chlorophyll into pipe tobacco, preserving pipstems and giving to tobacco fumes the scent of Chanel No. 5. There will be talk of deporting Anastasia and clearing the New York waterfront of mobsters.

There they ride . . . Both cold inside! Ike and Harry Polar bear-y.

They smile for form (It's far from warm); They chat, these two, As walrus do.

Broad grins they make . . . The act's a fake; Their smiles and words Are for the birds.

Mike and Buff have one of the most interesting and entertaining programs on video, so THEIR TIME HAS BEEN CUT FIFTEEN MINUTES!! Agnes DeMille is a genius of the ballet, but her recent "Rodeo" on the Omnibus hour may set Texas back fifty years . . . No such cowhands have ever been encountered in truth or fiction . . .

Russia will call the United States and England "butchers."

New Congress Will Receive Report On Our Military Aid

Robert S. Allen Reports - - - By Robert S. Allen

Washington, Dec. 29—The new Congress that convenes on Saturday is due to receive a highly revealing report on the huge quantities of arms and munitions the U. S. has sent its allies in the course of this year.

The size and scope of this military aid is truly extraordinary.

The remarkable report will be made by Averell Harriman, head of the Mutual Security Administration which has charge of this phase of the world-wide defense effort against Communist aggression. Harriman will be replaced by Harold Stassen in the Eisenhower regime.

One of the most significant disclosures of the Harriman report is the extremely important shift in weapons shipments that has quietly taken place in the past six months.

In that period, Indo-China and Formosa moved into emergency priority ratings topped only by Korea.

The French in Indo-China and the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa have received three times as much fighting equipment in the last half of this year as in the first.

The contrasting figures are $67,000,000 to $203,700,000.

Further, the big increase will continue. By February 1, combat supplies will be flowing to Indo-China and Formosa at the rate of $600,000,000 a year.

The far-reaching significance of this development is further indicated by still another disclosure in the Harriman report.

This is the fact that the amount of military aid the Joint Chiefs of Staff have earmarked for Indo-China and Formosa is approximately one-tenth the total allocated for all of Europe.

The two figures are $1,321,000,000 as against $10,288,000,000.

The Harriman report also reveals that the massive arms shipments to Indo-China are only one aspect of the key role the U. S. is playing in the military structure of France.

More than half of all U. S. military aid to NATO has gone to France.

To date, this huge French share amounts to $4,250,000,000. And of that huge total, the French have used upwards of $1,100,000,000 to resist Red aggression in the five-year struggle in Indo-China.

That sum is in addition to the hundreds of millions of dollars worth of guns and other munitions we are sending direct to Indo-China.

Those shipments this year include 80,000 machineguns and other types of automatic weapons, 100,000,000 rounds of ammunition, 1,200 artillery pieces, 8,000 motor vehicles, 750 tanks and other combat vehicles, 300 planes, 240 naval craft.

Note: French estimates put the strength of the Red Viet Minh forces at 400,000—with 6,200 Chinese Communist technicians and military "advisers." The latter are probably the higher commanders.

Canny Move—Senator Joe McCarthy is making certain he will have potent Democratic backing for his ambitions investigating plans in the new Congress.

The Wisconsin Republican has given a top job on his probing committee to Robert Kennedy, brother of Massachusetts' new Democratic Senator Jack Kennedy. Robert Kennedy, until recently, was a Justice Department lawyer. He will be assistant counsel on the committee McCarthy will head.

The job, in a way, will be a return favor for the helping hand young Kennedy's multi-millionaire father gave McCarthy during the recent election battle.

Former Ambassador Joe Kennedy made a four-figure contribution to the stormy Wisconsin chest.

While McCarthy did a lot of stumping for Republican candidates in New England, he carefully kept out of Massachusetts where Senator Henry Cabot Lodge was waging an uphill race against Jack Kennedy. Lodge and McCarthy have never been on close terms, but the latter was urged to go to the aid of his party colleague.

McCarthy turned the plea down cold.

Now, he has trumped that rebuff by hiring Robert Kennedy as his No. 2 investigator.

How It's Done—If you are a state or local Republican leader and have your eye set on an important job, the following is the way to go about getting it:

You must obtain the endorsement of your congressional district committeeman; your State Chairman and Governor, if he is a Republican; your National Committee man, and the National Committee woman. In addition, you should have the approval of one or both of your Senators and your Representative, if they are Republicans, of course.

Those are the minimum requirements.

There are exceptions to this rule, but if you are seriously after a job, it would be advisable to adhere to these requirements.

That's the inside word that has gone out from Republican National headquarters. There has been no written notice or anything like that. The matter is not being handled that way. But that's the information that has been privately transmitted to state GOP organizations.

The smart boys are taking heed and acting accordingly.

Our Productive Capacity And Ingenuity Makes Up For Lack Of Massive Manpower

These Days - - - - - By George Sokolsky

When it comes to manpower, the United States is a weak country, possessing only 156,000,000 persons as compared with about 800,000,000 in the Soviet world, or 362,000,000 for India. If only manpower mattered, the United States could be overrun and inundated by Asiatic and Slavic hordes.

Fortunately for us, our real power lies in the overwhelming productive capacity of our people. That productive capacity, which includes an unbelievable ingenuity in analyzing and solving what seem to be insurmountable problems, in two wars proved our ability to provide means and devices to achieve victory. Our productive management has done better than our statesmen, who lost in the negotiations.

Frederick C. Mills, in a brilliant analysis of this situation, published by the National Bureau of Economic Research, makes an extremely telling point:

"Over the last half century the real national product of the United States increased five-fold, while population doubled. Output per capita of the population increased two and one-half times. Here was the basis of a substantial advance in economic power and in levels of consumption. Over this same period the total volume of human effort going into production (measured by manhours of labor input) increased by 80 percent. The great gain in total output was won with an increase in labor input well below the increase in population. Here is evidence of a gain in welfare in another dimension—a saving of effort and a lightening of the toil by which the material needs of life are satisfied.

"The major instrument used in the winning of these dual gains was enhanced productivity . . ."

No slave labor was employed to achieve this stupendous result. In fact, wages increased, hours were shortened, working conditions improved. The actual standards of life were raised to what, 50 years ago, seemed unbelievable levels. The machine took up the load of the increase. And the machine is the product of the human mind, an instrument designed to free man from the limitations of his own physical strength and functions.

The proper utilization of the machine and the adjustment of manpower to it require scientific management which eliminates, to an increasing degree, guesswork and estimates. Scientific management applies not only the principles of engineering to industry but it probes into all the natural sciences to achieve its ends. Without it, atomic fission would have been impossible and the bomb could never have been made. This instrument is the product of several thousand industrial enterprises synchronizing their plants and know-hows on a single problem. This operation, more than any other, proved the industrial capacity of this country because it was an exploration into the unknown.

Our most pressing industrial problems at this moment are war and the preparation for war. This is ordinarily a wasteful, hit and miss business, because in war two targets stand before management: 1. The quickest defeat of the enemy; 2. The utilization of mechanical devices with a view to minimizing the loss of human life.

Therefore, if a better tank can be made, production is stopped; the new product is blueprinted, machinery tooled and made. It is a frightfully expensive operation. In private enterprise, the new designs might wait a long time for market availability, which is a thrifty attitude. Yet the apparent extravagance of the military method is justified by the two targets already referred to, namely, victory and lessened loss of life.

However, the direct application of scientific management to this problem, at the very top, may achieve unexpectedly favorable results. No Secretary of Defense has heretofore been from management. Forrestal and Lovett were bankers; Johnson was a lawyer; Marshall was a soldier. Charles E. Wilson is directly out of management in the largest industrial enterprise in America. His training in scientific management can make all the difference, if he is not bogged down in politics. He can apply the proved rules of scientific management to the national defense.

And he will have unusual support. George M. Humphrey, the prospective Secretary of the Treasury, Roger M. Kyes, Deputy Secretary of Defense, and Robert Ten Broeck Stevens, Secretary of the Army, come out of scientific management and their point of view will be the same as C. E. Wilson's in relationship to this problem.

A nation that has to look to production for national security needs to emphasize the importance of scientific management in its government.

Time reports that a newspaper editor is suing us for "engaging in journalistic gangsterism." Among others who used the same phrase ("journalistic gangster") are: Andrei Vishinsky, V. Molotov, A. Gromyko; The official Soviet newspaper in New York (The Daily Worker); and before it ended up in garbage cans, the red star Compass, Pravda, Izvestia and The Moscow Times. (See?)

The official Russian rags also described J. Brooks Atkinson (of the N. Y. Times) as a journalistic gangster—after he quit as Times correspondent (at Moscow) and reported the facts about them. Variety reports the same N. Y. editor (and his newspaper) are suing us for "defamation" . . . When they do it—this is News. If you counter-punch—if it's defamed around Oct. 5th! STROUDSBURG HIGH SCHOOL CLASS REUNION—Pictured above are guests who attended social affair at Penn-Stroud Hotel Saturday night. Front row, left to right, Mrs. Joseph Quick, treasurer; Dr. Robert Brown, retired superintendent; Mrs. Russell Bergman, Mrs. Carl Hirt, secretary, and Mrs. Samuel Lee. Rear, same order, Superintendent Earl F. Groner, Samuel Lee, Russell Bergman, vice president and toastmaster, and Carl Hirt.

1934 Class Hear Prophecy And Graduating Class Will

The reunion of the class of 1934, Stroudsburg High School, held at the Penn-Stroud Hotel Saturday night was attended by 96 persons, including guests. A steak dinner followed by dancing featured.

Russell Bergman, vice president of the class, acted as master of ceremonies, taking the place of Joseph Shiffer, th president, now a resident of Santa Monica, Calif.

The other officers of the class are Betty Lee Hirt, secretary, and Mary Bachman Quick, treasurer, both of whom were in attendance.

One of the amusing features of the gathering was the reading by Marie Delih Altomose of the class prophecy which had been given at the graduation exercises.

In this connection it was striking how closely the prophecies had worked out after 18 years, it was said.

Edward Williams read the class will which had been presented at the graduation.

Another feature was the presentation of prizes. Mrs. Florence Rehrig, of Rumford, R. I. received the award for having traveled the longest distance. The prize for second longest distance went to Rev. Donald Hamblin, of Windsor, Conn.

The prize for having made the first reservation for the class reunion went to Frank Yelsley, of East Stroudsburg. The male member with the largest number of children brought the prize to Charles Resh, of East Stroudsburg, while the female member with the most children was designated as Alice Heitler Hamblin, of Swiftwater.

One of the prizes which created much interest was that for the member of the class who had changed most since graduation. Adelle Kunkle Forquer, of Trenton, N.J., was declared the winner of the unique award.

Announcement was made at the dinner that plans were already under consideration for the 20th annual reunion in 1954.

Guests welcomed at the gathering were: Earl F. Groner, superintendent of schools; Dr. Robert Brown, former superintendent, retired; Samuel Lee and Mrs. Lee, the former Susan Altmose, and Miss Lillian Stark, member of the faculty of the high school. Music for the dinner was furnished by John Altier's dance band.

Edward Williams was chairman of the committee of arrangements. Other members were: Betty Lee Hirt, Peg Heller, Marie Altomose, Esta Clifton, Doris Barrie, Russell Bergman, Bob Raseley, Joe Yutz, Walt Weber and Steve Taffinger.

Roof-Top Art Is Work Of SHS Junior

The Santa Claus with his reindeer prancing across a rooftop on the hill section of Stroudsburg is spotlighted on the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mader, of 526 Wallace St., Stroudsburg. However, he can be seen to best advantage from Fifth Street, or from the bridge between the two towns.

The Christmas art is the work of Ray Hogrelus, a junior at Stroudsburg High School, and who is taking shop, following the footsteps of his father, a carpenter and cabinet maker.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Kraemer (Daily Record photo)

Miss Bronwen Ann Arnold Is Bride Of William H. Kraemer

Miss Bronwen Ann Arnold, daughter of Mrs. J. E. Arnold, of 138 Broad St., Stroudsburg and the late Dr. Jeali E. Arnold, was married to William H. Kraemer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Will L. Kraemer, of 111 North 88th St., Stroudsburg, on Saturday afternoon, December 27, at 2 o'clock.

They were wedded in the Cathedral of the Nativity in Bethlehem in the chapel. Rt. Rev. Frank Sterritt, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Bethlehem, performed the ceremony. He has been a friend of the family for many years and confirmed both Miss Arnold and her father.

The bride wore a dress of amethyst silk shantung, taffetaized, in a ballerina length, with a soft draped neckline, with a jeweled pin. With it, she wore a black velvet hat and black accessories, and a corsage of tiny white spray orchids.

Her mother wore a blue ensemble with a corsage of red roses and heather. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a brown ensemble with a corsage of green cypripedium orchids. With Mr. Kraemer, they were the only guests.

Following the ceremony, they held a bridal luncheon at the Hotel Bethlehem before the bride and bridegroom left for a wedding trip to New York City. On their return, they will make their home for the present with the bride's mother.

The bride, a graduate of Stroudsburg High School and Centenary Junior College, also attended Rider College and is employed in the prothonotary's office at the Court House.

Mr. Kraemer was also graduated from Stroudsburg High School, served three years in the U. S. Army, and is now a second year student at Rider College.

Mr. and Mrs. Will H. Kraemer entertained for the bride-to-be at a supper on Friday night before the Christmas dance.

Induct Church School Officers

Tannersville—Rev. LeRoy Barnard brought the Christmas message to a large congregation on Sunday morning, Dec. 21, instead of at the usual time at night.

During the service he installed the Sunday School officers who have been elected to serve during the coming year, as follows: Supt., Mrs. Sylvia Werkheiser; Asst. Supt., Mrs. Ruth Howell; Secretary, William Raish; Asst. Secy., Leta Bonser; pianist, Melva Raish; asst. pianist, Ruth Howell; treasurer, Richard Howell; librarian, Carl Raish; asst. librarian, Larry Starnes.

Children's Party Our Lady Of Victory Church

Tannersville—The children's party held at Our Lady of Victory Church Sunday afternoon, Dec. 21, was attended by a large number of children and adults. Santa Claus was among those present.

Mrs. Fred Schneider, of Swiftwater, and her daughter entertained with music on the piano and violin and Christmas carols were sung. Father Harry entertained with movies to the delight of the children. Monsignor McHugh and Rev. Robert Galligan were also among the guests.

Bags of candy, oranges and gifts were given the children, who were served with soda and cookies.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stadden donated the tree which was afterward given to a worthy family, as well as some of the goodies left over from the party.

Miss Betty Jane Avery Avery-Quick Engagement Announced

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Betty Jane Avery, of 5 E. Sixth St., East Stroudsburg, daughter of Mrs. Virginia Orr, of Ardmore, and William M. Avery, of East Stroudsburg, to Richard Quick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Quick, 167 Elizabeth St., also of East Stroudsburg.

Miss Avery is a graduate of East Stroudsburg High School, class of 1950 and is employed by the Bell Telephone Co.

Mr. Quick is also a graduate of the class of 1950 and is serving with the US Army, stationed at Norfolk, Va.

An early spring wedding is planned.

Making Recovery

Many friends of Dr. Mary Erdman, former resident of Stroudsburg, will be pleased to learn that she is recovering nicely following fracture of a hip due to a fall. Dr. Erdman is a guest at the Mary Fisher home, Tenny, N. J.

Plan Reunion

The Wooddale Sunday School will have its annual reunion on New Year's Day, January 1, at 2 o'clock with all former members and all residents of the community invited.

Cherry Lane Church Board Hold Meeting

Cherry Lane—The official Board and women workers of the Cherry Lane Methodist Church were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Sebring on Friday night, Dec. 19. Rev. Ralph H. Feltham presided at the business period, after a brief devotional period of prayer and a reading by Rev. Feltham giving an account of how "Silent Night" came to be written.

Other routine matters were disposed of. The donation of Harold Stiff on the current fuel oil bill was acknowledged, and bills ordered paid. The members then exchanged gifts and refreshments enjoyed while watching television.

Those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Feltham, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hallet, Mr. and Mrs. William Clugston, Mrs. Bessie Hauser, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Shaffer, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Anglemeyer and Lorrie Jean, guests Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Meyer of Chipperfield Drive, and the hosts Mr. and Mrs. Chester Sebring.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Clugston on Friday night, Jan. 16.

Wedded 32 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hauser, of Delaware Water Gap, celebrated their 32nd wedding anniversary Christmas day. Mr. Hauser has been justice of the peace there for many years and Mrs. Hauser operates Peggy's restaurant.

Going To Hershey

Tannersville—The history class of the Pocono Township High School is planning a trip to Hershey on Dec. 30.

Women Of Moose

The Women of the Moose planned an unusual Household Quiz for their January meeting, at a Christmas party held at Moose Hall, on Washington St.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Well, I did it. Spent an entire day in idleness, and loved it. Of course, it was somewhat complicated by the fact that our faithful pump suddenly stopped functioning.

As the heart is to the body, so a pump is to a rural home. When it stops, so does any similarity to functioning organism. When you can't wash your hands, brush your teeth, rinse the potatoes, or flush the toilet, life sort of reverts to the bare essentials.

There seems to be a conspiracy in the mechanical world this holiday to make the Westbrooks rely on the simple life. Either that or to make them appreciate the benefits of civilization.

If I believed in poltergeists, the past week would certainly have strengthened that belief. Every thing, it seems, is falling apart breaking down or blowing up.

And yet, ask any one of us, a we having a happy holiday, or the answer is an enthusiastic "Oh, yes!" As long as we are well and companionable, we're having a wonderful—if unwashed—holiday.

And to the next person, who wrinkles her nose as a dirty little boy runs past and says "There no excuse for letting a child that dirty. Soap and water are cheap"—I'll have a question to ask in return.

Have you ever carried in water?

Marine Robert Bonser And Miss Shirley P. Boyer Wed

Marine P. fc. Robert Lester Bonser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd K. Bonser, of Stroudsburg R. D. No. 3, (McMichaels) took as his bride Miss Shirley Patricia Boyer, daughter of Mrs. Malvine Boyer, of Scotrun, at 2:30 on Saturday afternoon.

The marriage was performed before the candle-lit altar of Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg, with the pastor, Rev. William F. Wunder, solemnizing the pretty double-ring ceremony in the presence of the immediate families.

Leon Altomose, of Saylorsburg, served as best man and Miss Barbara Butz, of Appenzel, was maid-of-honor.

Two large illuminated Canadian evergreen trees graced the chancel of the church for the wedding. During the wedding prayers the bridal couple knelt before the altar on a white satin pillow.

The bride was attired in a cream taffeta street length dress with black accessories and she wore a red rosebud corsage. Miss Butz wore a pink taffeta street length dress with black accessories and a white rosebud corsage.

The bride's mother was attired in a navy blue nylon street length dress with black accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a black crepe street length dress trimmed with white and red accessories.

The bridegroom is stationed on the USS Lake Champlain, Aircraft Carrier, stationed at the Norfolk, Va., Naval Base with the US Marine Corps. He has been in the corps for the past 10 months and has been to Cuba during his service with the Marines. He attended Chestnut Hill High School in Brookheadville and was employed with the Pennsylvania Power and Light Company. The bride attended Pocono High School in Tannersville and is employed in the office of the Hughes Publishing Company in East Stroudsburg.

The bride will make her temporary home with her mother in Scotrun until her husband's duty with the Marine Corps is completed.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Everitt Jr., daughter, Miss Barbara, and Miss Julia Townsend, of Lehigh, and Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. Everitt and daughters, Misses Ann and Mary Everitt, of Easton, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Everitt, Lindbergh Ave., yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Blanche Trach, one of the most active of the Grey Ladies of the Red Cross serving at the General Hospital celebrated her birthday on Sunday.

Col. Paul Fellencer returned on Saturday to Fort Eustis, Va., after spending Christmas with his family in Arlington Heights. Before he left, he and Mrs. Fellencer drove their daughter, Cynthia, to New York where she took the plane for Old Town, Maine, for a week's visit with friends.

Miss Lorna Lou Warncke spent Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Warncke, of Stroudsburg, and has returned to her work in medical research at the Rockefeller Foundation, New York City. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Warncke, of Syracuse University, also spent the holidays here.

Mrs. Fred Quig and daughter, Jean, Arlington Heights, went to Jenkintown this weekend where they attended the wedding of Miss Betsy Dunham, a student at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, to Robert Menninger.

Mrs. Alice Fellencer, who has been ill, was well enough to receive holiday visitors at the home of her daughter, and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Quig, Arlington Heights.

Garris Child Is Baptised On Christmas

Bushkill—Ervin Harry Garris, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Garris, was baptized on Christmas Day by Rev. John H. Lacey, pastor of the Dutch Reformed Church of Bushkill.

The ceremony took place at the Garris home with Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence DePue serving as sponsors. Charles Garris and Larry Garris were also present during the services.

Ervin Harry was born on August 1, 1952, at the Monroe County General Hospital.

A new novel by DAPHNE du MAURIER

The great mistress of mystery creates a gripping detective story that will hold you spellbound from the very first sentence. "Merry Farren went into the gun room one morning—loaded it—then shot herself." What turned a happy, loving wife into a suicide in just ten minutes? You'll find hours of exciting reading in No Motive—in the big, exciting January Ladies' Home Journal.

Howdy Folks!

You know, when you're so close to your children day in, day out, you almost fail to realize just how fast they are growing into adulthood.

It's the same way with all of us. We just don't realize how fast they change until it's time to buy a new suit or pair of shoes . . . or until some relative visits us and reminds us of the fact.

Children do grow up very fast . . . and childhood is such a wonderful period of life. It holds so many cherished memories and experiences.

Why not capture every step of your child's progress with treasured portraits. Their value will grow with the ensuing years and you'll never be sorry!

We'd be glad to arrange an appointment at your convenience.

Youngsters Are Community Guests

Tannersville—The Christmas Party for the children of the community, given by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Pocono Township Fire Co., was highly commended with the children themselves furnishing most of the entertainment. A huge tree, decorated with many lights and ornaments, welcomed the guests.

Mrs. Ruth Learn, Elsie Bessecker and Vera Walters were in charge of the program. Mrs. Edith Brong read Christmas stories to the children, after which each one presented the recitation to be given at other programs.

Gifts were distributed to everyone and all joined in the singing of Christmas carols. Mrs. Cella London and Mrs. Frances Bessecker decorated the table laden with delicious goodies brought by members and the children entertained with songs.

Beverly Hartman and Donna Lou Sandt were heard in a clarinet number, assisted by Dottie Bessecker. The prize of the evening donated by Mrs. Helen Martinell, was awarded Mrs. Eloda Gerhard. Special guests were Rodgers Shook and Edward Gerhard.

Inasmuch as the next regular meeting date falls on Jan. 1, it was decided to dispense with same and meet Jan. 15. Frances Bessecker thanked all who helped make the bazaar a success.

If you choose small broiling chickens (two to two-and-one half pounds) you can cook them in record time. Have the butcher cut the chicken in pieces as he would for frying. Rub the chicken pieces with soft butter or margarine, sprinkle with salt, pepper and paprika and broil—fairly close to the source of heat—for eight to ten minutes on each side.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

The most important invitation of the season came to our household on the back page of a recent Daily Record, in the form of an ad inviting all little girls to attend the annual Wyckoff doll party. Had a personal messenger of her Majesty, Elizabeth the Second, brought us a parchment scroll commanding our presence at her coronation next June, it would not, I am sure, have created more excitement. It wasn't long however, before we regretted having mentioned it in advance, for once we did, we were unwittingly plunged into great plans by our Very Young Lady.

I thought of this Saturday morning, as I folded napkins and opened Dixie cups in our Wyckoff recreation hall. The high, sweet voices of more than 60 starved and pretty little girls, rose brightly in the song about "Rudolph, the Red Nosed Reindeer," while Dottie Dunn accompanied at the piano and Arthur Widmer conducted in a carefree tenor. But my thoughts were concerned with the mothers, grandmothers, older sisters and brothers, who sat around the room quietly observing the merriment, and thinking, perhaps, of the dozens of Saturday chores awaiting their attention at home.

In the afternoon much the same performance was repeated—but, while 100 little girls gathered then, fewer mothers were in evidence. The older children were quite capable of climbing the steps alone, with both hands free to manage a doll, however large. No, the mothers weren't so numerous in the afternoon—it was father who dropped his daughter at the door, and father who answered the telephone call to "Come and get me, Daddy. It's all over."

But if the truth were known, I imagine many mothers of older girls felt oddly frustrated this year, when they realized that no longer was it necessary for them to carry a doll in one hand and, with the other, propel a chubby, snowsuit-clad child up the stairs. Maybe some of them really missed our party, and would have turned back the calendar gladly if they could. Perhaps only one would have appreciated a turning ahead to the time when her daughter could manage the steps alone. That would have been the mother who re-climbed the stairs three flights to search for a doll shoe that had been lost. (This shoe, since recovered, has been turned in at our Wyckoff credit office.)

They were wonderful parties from every viewpoint, and the parents were generous in their thanks and compliments. Only one complaint has reached our ears—from two irate young men, who demand, "Now just when is Wyckoff's going to have a gun and holster party for boys?" It's a good question. What about it, Mr. Widmer?

Ready for New Year's Eve at your house? I noticed a table in our center aisle complete with all types of noisemakers, hats and favors for your home celebration. Look them over when you're in today finding bargains on the clearance tables in sportswear, domestics and numerous other Wyckoff departments . . . And here's a really worthwhile resolution for 1953: To read the Wyckoff ads every day and visit Wyckoff's regularly, for pleasant, thrifty shopping.

Fellencer Is Ready To Show Complete Line

Twin City Television, your television and electrical appliance headquarters, at 1186 W. Main St., Stroudsburg, features Crosely and L&H (Lectro-Host), two famous names in appliances.

Ernie Fellencer, the man to see at Twin City, has 10 reasons why you'll be 10 times happier with a Crosely Shelvador Refrigerator, and Ernie is positive you'll find even more reasons of your own.

Remember first, last and always though, only Crosely gives you the Shelvador. (1) Automatic Defrosting does the once messy job completely every night without your ever lifting a finger! Nothing to turn on or off. Water is automatically evaporated. (2) Double "Front-Row" Space. Shelves completely recessed in the door add extra convenient space, put twice as much food where you want it—in front, in sight, in reach! (3) Finger-Tip Door Handle, with smooth trigger action latch. Opens and closes doors at a finger's touch. Door seal is airtight. (4) Crosely Butter Safe, has its own adjustable temperature control so you can automatically keep butter or margarine just as you like it for easy spreading. (5) "Moist-Cold" Crispers keep salad greens, vegetables and fruits farm-fresh, juicy and flavorful! (6) Removable Shelves, give you a choice of interior needs. Handy rearranging shelf, too! (7) Full-Width Freezer, holds abundant supplies of frozen foods at sub-zero temperatures. "Twin" automatic models have separate giant freezers. (8) Huge Meat Holder, keeps meats at just the right temperature for freshness and finest flavor. (9) Economical Refrigerating Unit, operates so efficiently, you can count on low operating costs, and long trouble-free life. Protected by a 5-year warranty. (10) Easier Housekeeping. Delux enamel exterior finish, acid-resistant porcelain enamel interior, rounded corners add up to easier cleaning!

There you are, 10 of the finest reasons why you should stop at Twin City and see those wonderful Crosely Refrigerators before you buy. Another important thing to remember is that Twin City offers you the highest trade-in prices on your old refrigerator, and your new Crosely can be purchased on Twin City's easy payment plan. Your old refrigerator will probably be more than enough for your down payment. So, stop or call today at Twin City Television, 1186 W. Main Street in Stroudsburg, or call 2337. Just ask for "Ernie."

Baseboard Heating At Archibalds

Now homeowners can have new and better Webster Baseboard Heating. This original, time-tested "perimeter" heating, with eight added vital, experience-born improvements, is available at the H. C. Archibald Company, 406 Main St., Stroudsburg.

Webster Baseboard Heating offers floor-to-ceiling comfort with temperature.

Just a few short years ago Webster Baseboard Heating was but a promise for the "home of tomorrow." It was a new idea, backed, however, by one of the oldest and most respected names in the technical field of heating—Warren Webster & Company.

Today Webster Baseboard Heating is a proven success. More than 10,000 families throughout America enjoy a new experience in heating comfort. Gone are hot and cold spots, chill temperatures at floor and roasting air to breathe. Gone are cold outside walls.

Technicians at the H. C. Archibald Company point out that garden apartments, financed and built with the aid of provisions of FHA financing, have been a significant proving ground for sound innovations in low cost housing.

Adoption of Webster Baseboard Heating in these projects, they add, is proof that this heating development meets the requirements of low first cost.

Webster achieves its results with less pounds of metal, less manufacturing hours and less installation hours than other earlier methods of heating.

H. C. Archibald Company invites you to stop in at their Main St. showroom and get the full story on this modern, efficient and space-saving heating plan.

Van D. Yetter Has New Line Of Trailers

Van D. Yetter has just the home for you—Prairie Schooner. The home on wheels that's built to last and built to give you service through the years. The ideal way to spend your winters in the southlands and summers in the northern climes. Travel without a worry when you travel with a Prairie Schooner.

Prairie Schooners are more serviceable. A mobile home's "lifeline" is at the roof edge. A seam here means trouble . . . sooner or later, due to road shock or weathering. That's why top panels of the Prairie Schooner are formed around the edge, to join with side panels down the side. Thus, roof edge seams are eliminated. An overlapping metal cap panel completes the all-metal Prairie Schooner roof . . . dome-shaped to assure quick runoff of water, to afford still further protection and serviceability.

More towable—improved engineering of strong materials and its streamline design combine to make Prairie Schooner the easiest-towing trailer on the highway.

More comfortable—No chilly corners in a Prairie Schooner. It's "dual-action" heating system sees to that! Cold air returns accelerate natural circulation for even temperatures and fuel economy the same principle as used in home heating. And the Prairie Schooner also has complete double insulation. These insulating layers of Silvercoat shield you from summer heat, winter cold. Floors, too, are protected from heat loss by a heavy layer of Homakote.

More value—Your investment in a Prairie Schooner is protected not only by a name that is nationally advertised, but also by a national reputation for dependability and long life. That's why trade-in values are always comparatively high. Shipment is made from the nearest factory—Elkhart, Md. or Elkhart, Indiana, so you save on transportation costs, too.

More experience—Prairie Schooners are made by one of the oldest and largest manufacturers in the industry. And tested improvements, good construction are an integral part of the Prairie Schooner policy—a policy that's formulated from long experience, not experiment!

Bedding Line Most Complete

If you get eight hours sleep and still don't feel you've had a good night's rest, you'd better visit the A. C. Miller Bedding Department.

The A. C. Miller Furniture store, Main & Fourth Sts., has one of the largest and best stocked bedding departments in this area.

One of the store's most popular mattresses is the Spring Air mattress. It has proven its value through use in over 4,000 fine hotels and hospitals and over 2,000,000 homes.

All Spring Air mattresses relieve backache due to improper support. There are five different models to choose from.

A. C. Miller also features Sealy Mattresses, Sleep-masters, "Loose Tuft" Innerspring Mattresses and 30c Springs and Koylon U. S. Rubber Co. all-foam-rubber mattresses.

On display in the bedding department you will also find Hollywood beds, double or single; youth beds, in maple or wax finish; as well as a large selection of boudoir chairs, either with maple frame or all-upholstered styles in lovely pastel shades.

The Koylon Mattress, the ultimate in sleeping comfort, cradles the body, relaxes muscles, soothes nerves, and above all, gives you "the rest of your life!"

U. S. Koylon is foam rubber, whipped from creamy white latex. It supports without pressure, yet it gently yields and never cuts off circulation.

Eight thousand types of coal were marketed in Britain before nationalization of British mines; now only eight types are in use.

Americans In Germany Will See Changes

Heidelberg, Germany (AP)—More than 300,000 Americans living in West Germany may know 1953 as the year of the big change.

These Americans—servicemen, U.S. government officials and employees, business and professional men and their wives and families—enjoy special privileges. These privileges attach to victors in a vanquished nation.

But much of this easy living will come to an end with the ratification of two treaties. These are the West German Peace Contract and the European Army Treaty.

U.S. Army headquarters disclosed some of the changes in prospect for Americans here. Military and civilian personnel attached to the armed forces will be subject to certain taxation, including taxes on German-bought items, but no German tax on salaries from the U.S. government or on personal property.

Business and professional men will be taxed on income derived solely from German sources, and there will be an insurance tax on premiums to German insurance firms.

American soldiers still will not be subject generally to arrest by German police, but there will be some important exceptions. They may be arrested if caught in the commission of a felony and they may be taken into custody on request of the U.S. Army.

American schools for children will continue to operate, as will the Army's commissaries, post exchanges, barber shops, service stations, hotels and cleaning and pressing shops.

But it will be different for American business and professional men. They will have to shop in German groceries and stores for food and clothing they have been buying in Army post exchanges at almost wholesale prices.

They will have to buy gasoline at German filling stations at about 60 cents a gallon instead of 16 cents at Army-operated stations.

They now pay only one dollar a year for an Army-issued automobile license. German motorists must pay their government anywhere from $50 to $225, depending on the size of their automobile engine.

Former Resident Reported Dead

Hyman Michaels, 67, Washington, D. C., former Stroudsburg resident, died yesterday morning at a Washington hospital, following a three-year illness.

He operated the Fairplay Store, a clothing establishment, on the ground floor of the Andrews Building on Main St., Stroudsburg, opposite the Penn-Stroud Hotel, about 20 years ago.

He left Stroudsburg 16 years ago to live in Middletown, N. Y., later moved to Washington.

Among his survivors is a son, Joseph Michaels, 244 Hoffman St., East Stroudsburg; and his wife, Jennie.

Services will be held today in Washington.

Hawk Services Are Conducted

Services for Miss Edna Hawk, 73, Kunkletown, were held Saturday at St. Matthew's Reformed Church, Kunkletown, with Rev. Adan Bohner officiating.

Burial was at Kunkletown Cemetery. Pallbearers were Wesley Shaffer, Silas Frantz, David Frantz, Herbert Persol Jr., Ernest Persol and Paul Greensweig. Services were arranged by the Kroege funeral home, Brodheadsville.

R. N. Hawk Rites Are Conducted

Funeral services for the late Raymond N. Hawk were held at the late residence in McMichael's yesterday afternoon, Rev. Alton Albright officiating.

Interment was made in Effort cemetery. Pallbearers were sons and grandsons of the deceased, Edgar Hamm funeral home, in Brodheadsville was in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Mary Tryon Services Held

Services for Mrs. Mary R. Tryon, 90, of Blairtown RD 2, N. J., were held yesterday at Lanterman funeral home, East Stroudsburg, with Rev. David Parker officiating.

Burial was at Moravian Cemetery, Hope, N. J. Pallbearers were Homer, Phillip and George Vansyckle, and Lewis Ayers.

During the Middle Ages it was customary to kneel on both knees to worship God and on one knee to do homage to a human lord.

EXPERTS SEE 1953 USHERING IN ERA OF SWIFT PROGRESS

By John F. Semberower

Chicago—Take it from the experts who should know: when the whistles blow at midnight on New Year's Eve, the din will usher in a 1953 that will move the United States and the world deeper into an exciting new era with nary a dull moment.

Whether the predictions are exactly rosy depends on your viewpoint, but if you like lightning change, rapid-fire technological development, higher salaries, more leisure, and a steady stream of new gadgets and gimmicks of all kinds, 1953 and the years to follow should be your dish, says William Fielding Ogburn, noted sociologist at the University of Chicago here and the nation's leading social statistician.

Dr. Ogburn is not alone, because virtually all the long-range forecasters who claim to use something besides crystal balls for their prognosticating echo that view. Their predictions have been coming thick and fast in the closing weeks of dying 1952.

Arnold J. Toynbee, British historian, looking ahead to 2002 A.D., sees history repeating itself and the United States dominating a world that is reminiscent of the Graeco-Roman era of 102 A.D.

There were three great empires then—an empire in central Asia, the Parthian empire in Iran and Iraq, and the Roman empire of Augustus around the Mediterranean sea.

However, the Romans were supreme and the rest of the world knew it, says Dr. Toynbee, who sees the United States in the role of Rome in the latter half of the Twentieth Century.

In narrower spheres, engineers are predicting startling advances in almost all their specialties. They range from an atomic ice box envisaged by Dr. Lloyd E. Brownell of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, to the forecast of engineers at Massachusetts Institute of Technology that automatic factories have virtually arrived.

Dr. Brownell describes the "ice man" of the future as wearing a lead apron and making only a yearly call to insert a rod of radioactive cobalt 60 into an otherwise self-sufficient freezer. The M.I.T. scientists predict that the assembly line will quickly be eclipsed by the "push-button" factory powered by atomic or solar fuel.

Dr. Ogburn endorses that forecast, and goes farther to say that "There will be no more heavy muscular work for labor, because even light labor will give way to more automatic production in factory, store, home, and transportation."

He foresees a rising tide of invention, and steady dispersal of population because of improved transportation, particularly by highway and helicopter. Communications also will be stepped-up.

Agreeing with the latter is Hal S. Dumas, executive vice president of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, who told a gathering of engineers here that global sight-sound telephones "will push the frontiers of the spoken word farther and farther afield."

An average income of $6,000 per year on the basis of 1952 dollars is in the making, says Dr. Ogburn. This is corroborated by Fenton B. Turk of New York, writing in the organ of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Dr. Arnold J. Toynbee

Describing the current era as being "like the flowering of the golden age of Greece," Turk calculates that the average American's real purchasing power now is 53 per cent above 1940, and the average workman's real wages are 35 per cent higher than in 1938.

He says the "flowering" is not a sudden development, but the climax of 300 years "in which the energy and experience of the hundreds of millions of free people who have lived and work in what is now called the United States have accumulated an enormous time bomb of progress that finally burst in this decade."

Denying that the advance is solely in material things, he points out that Americans spend twice as much on books today as 10 years ago, and read more newspapers and magazines than ever before in history. They bought more Bibles in 1941-51 than in the 40 previous years.

The Turk tabulations show more Americans (54 per cent) for the first time owning homes than renting. Better-fed children are 2-3 inches taller than the kids of 50 years ago, and will have 9-12 years' more life expectancy in which to enjoy the more bountiful era of 1953 and afterwards.

Church Damaged When Paint Thinner Explodes During $100,000 Fire; Two Hurt

Mt. Morris (AP)—A $100,000 fire destroyed the Kennedy Garage, damaged the First Methodist Church and injured two bystanders early yesterday in this Greene County town.

Water froze on the coats of 38 firemen from Mt. Morris, Waynesburg and Bobtown as they battled three hours in 10-above-zero weather.

They were handicapped by lack of water, having to pump it from a nearby brook.

Holbert Arrison, one of the owners, estimated the loss at more than $100,000. He said it included 16 used cars, one new car and $15,000 worth of power saws and parts that arrived only last week.

The First Methodist Church, on the opposite side of Main St., was damaged when a tank of paint thinner exploded, blasting out a plate glass window on the second floor of the two-story tile garage building.

A sheet of flame rolled across the street to the church, shattering eight to 10 stained glass windows in the front of the building. The church was otherwise undamaged.

The paint thinner blast injured two spectators, David Halle, 25, and Robert Raver, 24, both of Mt. Morris. They were burned about the face and arms. Their condition was reported good in Waynesburg Hospital.

Arrison said he has asked Walter J. Heiser, assistant state fire marshal, of Washington state police barracks, to investigate the cause of the fire. He said the store was in satisfactory condition when he left it at 9 p.m. Saturday. Only one fire was burning, a hot-air furnace, which had recently been inspected by the Mt. Morris fire department and declared in good condition, Arrison said.

Arrison's partner in the garage business, Dale Kennedy of Mt. Morris, has not been told of the fire. He is in critical condition in a Parsons, W. Va., hospital from head and leg injuries suffered in an auto accident Dec. 8 near Parsons.

Inspectors Check Crew

Southampton, Eng. (AP)—The giant British liner, Queen Mary, sailed into Southampton last night with a busy U.S. immigration inspector only half-way through his job of screening the 1,246-man crew.

All the Mary's crewmen have to be cleared under terms of the new McCarran Act designed to keep Communists off U. S. shores.

The 650 checked so far all got a clean bill of health from U. S. Immigration Inspector Russell Danielson on the journey from New York. The other 596 have to be checked before the liner reaches New York on her return trip.

Surviving is his wife, M. Louise. Announcement of funeral arrangements will be made tomorrow by Dunkelberger and Westbrook funeral home.

Mt. Mitchell in Western North Carolina is the highest peak in the Eastern part of the United States, rising to 6,684 feet.

Would Halt Increasing Population

Washington (AP)—A top-ranking geneticist has returned from a tour of the world's most crowded areas with the statement that mankind must do something—soon—to halt increasing over-population.

Robert C. Cook, director of the Population Reference Bureau—a privately-supported organization devoted to the study of population problems—and for 30 years managing editor of the "Journal of Heredity," made an on-the-scene study in Greece, Egypt, India, China and Japan.

"There is a remarkable awakening on the part of the leaders and the masses, particularly in India and Japan, to the fact that over-population is a basic question of survival," Cook told a reporter.

"The question of how population is to be controlled is very serious—and it has not been solved," he said.

A lecturer in biology at George Washington University Cook also teaches medical genetics at the university's medical school.

Cook made his globe-circling air trip primarily to attend a world conference on planned parenthood at Bombay, India.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to suit your fortune. Cannot the letters in your first name, if the number of letters is 6 or more, be traced? If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Sleeps Thru Death Ride

Silver Hill, Md. (AP)—Young Joseph H. Long was asleep in the back seat of a car Friday night when it went out of control and turned over.

The driver was fatally injured. Two other friends were hurt.

But Long, 16, told a reporter yesterday he slept through the whole thing.

He said he awoke about nine hours later in a patch of weeds. He had been thrown clear of the car, unharmed except for minor cuts.

Fire Destroys Church; Loss Is $150,000

Middleburg, Pa. (AP)—Fire believed caused by an exploding boiler destroyed the Emanuel Lutheran Church here yesterday.

Firemen from five surrounding communities fought the blaze which started about 7:30 a.m. yesterday. Middleburg Fire Chief Arthur J. Graybill estimated damages at approximately $150,000.

The blaze left standing only three walls and a 70-foot high tower of the 61-year-old brick structure. The Rev. James G. Shannon, pastor of the church, said he and several others discovered the flames at about the same time.

The Rev. Shannon came here from Stroudsburg about two years ago.

All furnishings of the church except a few items from the kitchen were lost in the blaze.

Fire Damages Automobile

Bangor—An automobile owned by John Owens, North Fifth St., Bangor was damaged by fire yesterday afternoon at 1 p.m.

Bangor officials said the fire occurred after Owens had started his car by pouring gasoline into the frozen carburetor.

Owens drove the car a distance of several blocks, then it burst into flames. The driver called the police department. All three units of the local fire department answered the call.

Estimated damage to the car: $300.

Meanest Thief

Bristol, Eng. (AP)—Bristol's meanest thief of 1952 sneaked into a hotel yesterday and swiped from beneath a Christmas tree the toys which were to be given on New Year's Day to British orphans.

Lions Trim Browns, 17 To 7, For First NFL Title

Detroit Takes Advantage Of Game's Breaks

Cleveland (AP)—The younger Detroit Lions smashed through a veteran Cleveland Browns team yesterday for two touchdowns and a field goal to win 17-7 and cap their first National Football League championship in 17 years.

The alert Lions capitalized on the breaks and led all the way in what was essentially a defensive battle. A crowd of 50,934 watched in a temperature of about 30 degrees.

Receipts Total $314,318

The nationally televised and broadcast game netted gross receipts of $314,318. That meant record shares for the players participating. Each Detroit player got $2,744.77 while the Browns drew shares of $1,712.49 each.

The longest and most spectacular run of the day was a dash by Detroit halfback Doak Walker for 67 yards and a touchdown in the third quarter. Walker shot through the left side of the line, cut back to the right and picked up his way through the entire secondary. It was his first touchdown this season.

Leg Injured

Walker had missed seven games because of a pulled leg muscle, but he scored 11 touchdowns in his first year of pro football and six last year.

The break that led to the Lions' first score was a poor punt by Horace Gillom, the league's leading kicker. It wobbled out of bounds at midfield, only 22 yards from the line of scrimmage. That was just before the end of the first quarter.

Layne Passes

In the last two plays of the quarter, Bobby Layne hit Cloyce Box in the clear with a 10-yarder, then bootlegged around left end on the next play for 13 more. Fullback Pat Harder fought through the center to within inches of a first down on the Browns' 17 and Walker picked up those inches.

Layne shot a low pass to Bill Swacki for 14 yards and the Lions were on the Browns' two. Walker gained five to offset a five-yard penalty and on second down Layne shouldered through the middle for the touchdown.

Browns Score

The Browns' lone touchdown followed by only four minutes Walker's spectacular dash in the third quarter. Their drive carried 78 yards in 10 plays, slowed by a 15-yard shoving penalty. Graham who had gained only nine yards in 10 pass attempts during the first half, began to click. He hit end Dante Lavelli for nine and 11, Pete Brewster for 22 and Ray Renfro for eight, and carried for 12 himself during the drive.

Harry (Chick) Jagade went over from the seven with tackle Thurman McGraw and safety man Don Doll hanging on. Lou Groza booted the extra point.

Cleveland Threat

The Browns made another threat in the fourth quarter, driving from their own 17 to the Lions' 21. Big Marion Motley sparked this drive by carrying a pitch-out 42 yards to the Lions' five. He stepped out of bounds just before he fell and slid against the goal line flag.

The drive sputtered when linebacker Dick Flanagan knocked down a fourth-down Graham pass.

Harder's Field Goal

Another break for the Lions occurred in the last period, when halfback Ken Carpenter fumbled Bob Smith's punt and Lion end Jim Martin recovered on the Browns' 24. A personal foul set the Lions back 15 yards but they cashed in for three points when Harder booted a field goal on fourth down with the ball on the 29.

Cleveland 0 0 7 0—7
Detroit 0 7 7 3—17

Cleveland scoring: Touchdown—Jagade. Conversion—Groza.

Detroit scoring: Touchdown—Layne. Walker. Field Goal—Harder. Conversions—Harder 2.

Bonnies Favored In Cage Tourney

New Orleans (AP)—Big Bill Ken-ville's accurate shooting and a perfect record have pegged St. Bonas venture as the favorite in the Sugar Bowl basketball tournament which opens tonight.

The upstate New York quintet is the only undefeated team in the tournament. Louisiana State, the pride of the Bayou country, has dropped one game. Villanova has lost two and St. Louis is a four-time loser.

LSU and Villanova will play the tournament opener at 7:45 p.m. (CST). St. Bonaventure meets St. Louis at 10:30. Winners of tonight's games will tangle for the championship Tuesday night and the losers will play for the consolation spot.

The University of North Carolina has had three Olympic track team members. They are Harry Williamson, Bill Albans and Chuck Simmons.

Lions Employ Cloyce Box, Stellar Pass-Catcher, As Decoy To Whip Cleveland

By Harry Stapler

Cleveland (AP)—End Cloyce Box, almost ignored in the victors' dressing room after the game, and a hard-wired defense helped the Detroit Lions to their first professional football championship in 17 years yesterday.

Box and the linemen may not get the headlines. But without them, the Lions couldn't have beaten the Cleveland Browns 17-7.

Those were the words from Lion coaches as they weaved and bobbed through backslapping ball-players and club officials.

Made Tuff Possible

"Box was the boy who made Doak Walker's touchdown run 67 yards possible," said assistant coach Aldo Forte.

Box, the Lions' star pass-catcher was used as a decoy most of the afternoon and figured in no important pass plays. On Walker's run through the line, Box flared far to the left and two defenders followed him.

When Walker zipped through the line into the secondary, the defenders were caught out of position.

Then Box, not highly regarded as a blocker, bumped the Browns' Bert Rechichar and Tommy James to keep them from getting a clear shot at Doak.

Sad-faced

Box was almost sad-faced in the dressing room but beamed momentarily when someone noted his feat.

For Doak, who scored 17 touchdowns in two prior seasons, it was Touchdown No. 1 in 1952. Injuries sidelined him most of the season.

The Lions took the victory more calmly than expected.

They hollered a little and back-slapped. But they acted like fellows who had expected to win all along.

"You know what won for us," said coach Buddy Parker, who played on Detroit's only previous champion. "It was our line, when the Browns got inside the 30. Did you ever see anything like it?"

Buster Ramsey, defensive aide for Parker, nodded his head. "They outgained us but they couldn't do much in the clutch. Don't ask me to name any special guys either. They were all great."

Second Round Slatington Tourney In

It's Leighton against Weatherly and Slatington versus Palmerton tonight as the second annual Smith Hall Invitation Tournament moves into the second round at Slatington.

Leighton rates an edge in the pre-game reckonings on the basis of its 105-52 rout of East Stroudsburg High School in an opening round tilt Friday night, but there are many of fans feel confident that if any team is to halt the charges of Coach George Blighaus in this turnney, it will be Weatherly.

Scoring Duel

In any event, tonight's battle shapes up as a great shooting duel between Frank Romano, Weatherly's stringbean forward, on the one hand, and Leighton's giant point-getters, Denny Roth and Joel Samuelson, on the other.

Romano tallied 35 counters in leading Weatherly to a decisive 64-44 verdict over Stroudsburg High in the tournament curtain raiser last Friday night. In Leighton's rout of East Stroudsburg, Roth bucketed 43 points and Samuelson added 27 as they easily dominated the play solely on their towering height.

Saturday's Scores

Palmerton and Slatington earned semi-final berths in the tournament play by virtue of victories Saturday night. Palmerton scored a surprising easy 79-44 win over Mauch Chunk, and Slatington downed Summit Hill, 66-53.

Rickey Replies To Greenberg

Pittsburgh (AP)—Branch Rickey, general manager of the lowly Pittsburgh Pirates, said last night that if Hank Greenberg wants to make statements about the Pirates "it's perfectly all right with me."

"He's entitled to his opinion because this is America and anyone can say anything he wants," Rickey declared.

The Pirate executive's remarks came after he learned that Greenberg, general manager of the Cleveland Indians, said Saturday that when you play for the Pirates "you get that losing feeling."

Greenberg, who once played for the Bucs, made the statement when reporters asked him why the Pirates dealt shortstop George Strickland to the Indians last season.

Greenberg said Strickland was a good player for the Pirates "and undoubtedly will even be better for us."

Wise Observer

Rickey had no comment on Strickland but as for Greenberg's statement on the "losing feeling," he declared:

"Now, Henry Greenberg was a very talented player and undoubtedly a very wise observer. I'm glad to have his remarks. I always like to hear how others see us."

DeSpirito Wins Three More Races

Havana, (AP)—Tony DeSpirito booted home three winners yesterday at Oriental Park Race Track to boost his total riding victories for 1952 to 381 and leave him eight short of a new world record.

The 18-year-old Lawrence, Mass., apprentice jockey now returns to Tropical Park, Miami, where he has three more days in which to equal or break the record of 388 winners in a year.

The mark was set by Walter Miller in 1936 and equaled in 1950 by Willie Shoemaker and Joe Cul-mone. The latter also rode in Ha-vana in an effort to break the long-standing mark.

Ahead

DeSpirito is ahead of both Cul-mone and Shoemaker at this date. Through Dec. 28 in 1950 Culmone had 380 winners, Shoemaker 378.

Tony started out yesterday at Oriental by taking the opening race aboard Mebon ($4,000) a five and one-half sprint in a photo finish with Magada.

His other winners were with Khayyams Kid in the fourth race, and Aherny in the sixth. Khayyams Kid was timed in 1:12 3-5 in the six furlong fourth, and paid $5.20, while Aherny finished six furlongs in 1:13 and returned $13.20.

Holiday Cage Fives Reach Semi-Finals

Semi-finals are scheduled tonight in the Holiday Basket-ball Tournament at the Mon-roee County YMCA. It was an-nounced last night by George Metropoulos, athletic director at the Y.

Winners of the two games tonight will meet Tuesday night in the championship match.

The semi-finals will begin at 7:15 p.m. with Newell's Awningsmen stacking up against Worthington Mower, and at 8:15 p.m., Frank's Barber Shop will tangle with DeVivo's Shoemen.

Metropoulos also disclosed that no games are scheduled in the Biddy Basketball League today because of the holi-days. However, the gym will be reserved from 4 to 5:30 this afternoon for Biddy basket-ball players. All boys who play on the various league teams are urged to be on hand.

Sedgman Stops Vic Seixas

San Francisco (AP)—Frank Sedgman of Australia defeated lanky Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, 6-3, 6-4, in the first two sets of the opening Davis Cup Challenge round

ESSTC Wrestlers Entered In Wilkes College Event

Wilkes-Barre (AP)—College wrestlers—154 strong—will gather here today for the opening of the Wilkes College wrestling tournament.

West Chester State Teachers will lead the group with a squad of 25 athletes under the direction of head coach Willard Trezise.

Two colleges entered in the competition for the first time—Temple and Syracuse—plan to send 11 men each.

Ithaca, always considered a threat in the tourney, will be represented by 16 wrestlers.

The freshmen and varsity squads of Lehigh will be on hand under the guidance of coach Gerry Lee-man, successor to Bill Sheridan.

Other colleges which will be represented include Wake Forest, Cortland, Yale, Lafayette, Muhlenberg, East Stroudsburg State Teachers, Penn State, Pittsburgh, Lock Haven Teachers, Delaware, Cornell, Hofstra, Franklin and Marshall, and the host Wilkes.

YMCA clubs in this city, Baltimore, Clearfield, Elmira, Geneva, Harrisburg, Hershey, Pa., and the New York AC will be represented.

match, at Adelaide, Radio Australia reported last night.

The broadcast, monitored in San Francisco, said the critical first singles match began before a capacity crowd of about 16,000 in excellent playing weather.

Sedgman, rated the world's best amateur, handled Seixas with ease in the first set.

Then he kept on rolling in the second, breaking Seixas' serve in the first and third games.

Pin Spots---

By Cal Counterman

The Fourth Annual Tournament opened Friday night and we have some fairly good scores to shoot at for the coming nights. Thirty-two men opened and four of them hit better than 600 with their handicaps.

Harry Smith is leading at the present time with a 632 based on a 100 pin handicap, and is followed close behind by Robert Weisenflue who has 631 on a 46 pin handicap. The other two men over 600 are William Weiderman and Ellsworth Brodt, both having a 617. Weiderman has an 86 pin and Brodt a 46 pin handicap.

There were no men able to bowl two games over 200 without their handicap, but five men managed to roll one game over the mark. High single games scratch at the present time stand at 239 with Donald Metzgar holding the spotlight at present. Next in line is Mill Butts with a 233, then Bill Weiderman with 208 and Donald Gage with 206. The fifth man to go over the mark was Robert Weisenflue who hit it right on the nose. A breakdown when is the best time to get the big one is as follows: One came in the first game and one in the middle game, with three in the last game. This follows what they call the big last game to pull out with a score.

That most men need the handicap is proved by the fact that in the high series scratch, no one managed to go over the 600 mark. Leading in the scratch division is Robert Weisenflue with a 585, followed by Ellsworth Brodt with a 569. Next comes Wally Straub with 545 and Harry Smith, the present tournament leader, who has a 532. The other 28 men range below Smith.

Everyone was over 500 with his handicap but one man. That's proving that every one is pretty well qualified in this type of a tournament.

It is a little early to draw any comparisons, as there are 48 teams of doubles and 102 men to bowl singles yet today and Tuesday. But, a little look back on last year shows that with a record number of 192 men in the singles, there were 34 men over the 600 mark. In comparison we need 22 more men out of the rest yet to bowl to go over the 600 mark to equal last year in scores on a comparative basis.

Also on a comparative basis, the 632 with which Harry Smith is leading at present last year was good only for fifth place. With most of the field left to go, maybe it will even be lower this year.

Last year Robert Weisenflue finished in third place with a 655, but this year Bob is in second place with a 631. Another man in the money last year was William Weiderman, who finished second with a 661 and is at the present time in third place with a tie at 617.

A look at the scores for the past couple of years may prove interesting to some people. In 1950 Ellwood German led the field with a 650, and in 1951, it was Joseph Hodgson with a 678. Now we have 1952 and it is a question what will be high and the answer will not be known until the last man has bowled on Tuesday night.

Up until now all the talk has been about the singles, but a very important part of the tournament is the doubles. Tonight at 7 this segment of the tournament will get under way at Harmon's and then the fellows will be shooting at some scores established in past years. In 1950 Harry Andress and Richard Andress led the field with a 1281 for first place. Then in 1951 Joseph DeSanto and Joe Hodgson teamed up to give us a 1346.

As with scores in the other events, the All Events score has also moved up in the past two years. The year 1950 gave us James Harmon Sr. with a 1186 and 1951, Joe Hodgson with a 1269.

With Christmas filling the past week, bowling was at a low spot, but a few of the leagues battered at the pins during the early part of the week. Monday night saw the D. Schmidt Memorial League finish the first half and Shoemaker Signs take over in the No. 1 spot for the first half by winning four points from Stbg. Engine Works who led the major portion of the half. Shoemakers relied on a big match by Paul Fetherman who hit 596 on games of 165-222-209, to win them the first half championship.

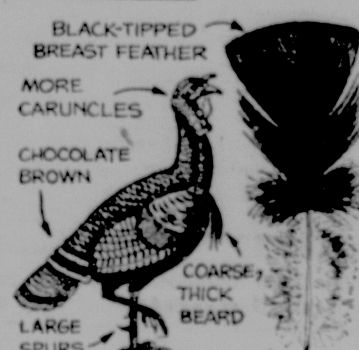

At the Legion the Sea Bees took four points from the Jokers as Shepps hit 560 to be high for the night. The Commandos and Marines split with two points apiece, while the Air Corps lost three to the Sad Sacks. Meanwhile the Navy sank the Army for four points.

Another circuit in action during the week was the Pocono Bowling League as they started the second half. After one week of bowling Transue Auto Body and Patterson Kelley are tied at four points each for first place. High man for the night was Russell Dennis Jr. as he hit 214-160-187 for a 561.

Harry Stein, head basketball coach at Brandeis U., is also the backfield coach of the football team.

SPORTSMAN'S North Bows To Dixie In Bowl Game

DISTINGUISHING A "TOM" TURKEY....

Jack Nichols of the Milwaukee Hawks in the NBA was a second lieutenant in the Marines during World War Two.

The Northern college all-stars were no match for a talented Dixie combination that featured Ray Graves of Texas A&M and South rolled to a 28-7 football win over the North in the annual Blue-Gray game at Montgomery, Ala., Saturday.

Two Pennsylvania college players scored all the points for the Yankees. Earl Hersh, West Chester Teachers halfback, took a 13-yard pass from Ted Marchbrods of Detroit for the lone Northern touchdown, and Bill Leonard, Penn State College's place-kick specialist, added the extra point.

Harlow Assisist Engle

A crowd of 22,000 witnessed the wide-open game. The Northern squad was coached by Rip Engle, head grid mentor at Penn State. His assistants were Dick Harlow and West Ingerson, the latter of Illinois. Harlow, a Summer resident of LaAnna since the age of three, played lots of football at Penn State more than 40 years ago. He later returned to his alma mater as football coach and also held similar positions at Harvard, Colgate and Western Maryland.

Last Year's Schoolboy Cage Champs Continue Winning Ways In Early Games Of New Season

Harrisburg. (AP)—The state's two top schoolboy basketball clubs last year—Farrell and Coatesville—hung up holiday tournament victories over the weekend to maintain unbeaten 1952-53 records.

The Western Pennsylvania five, which took the Class A PIAA title from Coatesville, 63-55, last March, scored triumphs number six and seven of the exhibition campaign to take the first Farrell Invitation Tournament.

Coatesville hammered Reading, 56-42, Saturday in the feature of the 10th annual Eye Glass Fund doubleheader at Reading. It was the eighth straight success for the Red Raiders, defending Chesmont League and District One champions.

Farrell swamped Swoyersville's (3-4) District Two champs, 70-48, in Saturday night's championship game after having a harder time getting past Pittsburgh Westinghouse (1-4), District 8 kingly, 58-48, in the opening round. Four of the Steeler decisions have come over neighboring Ohio quintets.

Westinghouse copied its first win of the year by beating New Kensington, 48-38, in Friday's first round.

Kutztown Victor
In a Class B preliminary at Reading, Kutztown, eastern winner last year, handed Schuylkill Haven its first loss, 51-43. Kutztown has been beaten only once this month, by Class A Pottstown.

Tournament action grabbed the scholastic spotlight throughout the state during the week in the final tuneup for the traditional January opening of conference races.

The two top seeded teams qualified for championship contests in the seventh annual Lehigh Valley Invitational Interscholastic Tournament at Allentown. The eight-team meet is divided into Class A and Class B play for the first time with no playoff between the two brackets.

Bethlehem Romps
Bethlehem, favored in the A ranks, routed Easton, 82-48, Saturday night, to pick up its fifth straight victory. The Red Hurricane faces Parkland Tuesday in the A Division final. Parkland handed Allentown Central Catholic (5-4), defending state PCIAA titlist, a 58-52 setback Friday.

Class B opening round triumphs were chalked up by Fountain Hill, 64-62 over Hellertown, last year's tourney champ; and Bethlehem Catholic, seeded first in Class B, 66-51 over Coplay. Fountain Hill and Bethlehem Catholic meet in a preliminary to the Class A contest.

Slatington Tourney
Slatington, Palmerton, Weatherly and Lehighton qualified for tonight's semi-finals of the second annual Lehigh Valley Interscholastic League tournament with opening rounds at Slatington.

The scores: Slatington 66, Summit Hill 53; Palmerton 79, Mauch Chunk 44; Weatherly 64, Stroudsburg 44; and Lehighton 105, East Stroudsburg 52.

In Hazleton's first annual Junior Chamber of Commerce Tourney Freeland beat Shick-shinny, 77-75, Hazle Twp. downed Mt. Carmel Catholic, 59-37, Kings-ton won over Freeland Mining and Mechanical, 72-67, and Berwick beat West Hazleton, 76-64. The winners play in the semi-finals tonight.

Cambria Tourney
The fourth annual Cambria County Invitation gets under way tonight at Johnstown with Johnstown (6-0) facing Sharon (6-0) and Old Forge (4-1) testing Greensburg (6-0).

In PCIAA play Scranton Prep and Scranton St. Paul's held top rating in the Northern Division of the Catholic League with identical 5-0 logs. St. Vincent's of Plymouth defeated St. Ann's of Freeland for number six in a row and top billing in the Southern Division.

Harrisburg Catholic (5-1) lost its first to Harrisburg John Harris, while Pittsburgh Central Catholic leads the Western PCIAA ranks with a 5-1 mark.

Top-Ranked LaSalle Is Upset Victim

New York (AP)—The LaSalle Explorers, National Invitation champions and No. 1 in the current rankings, know what it is now to be a "marked team."

The Philadelphia, tops in the Associated Press poll, found an aggressive DePaul quintet laying for them Saturday in the first round of the Madison Square Garden Holiday Festival. They were upset 63-61, for their first defeat in nine games.

This was only one of a series of upsets which marked holiday tournament play.

Utah Beats NYU
In other first round games at Madison Square Garden, Utah State, led by Bob Harbertson, who dropped in 22 points, surprised by whipping New York University 67 to 61 and Miami of Ohio turned back favored St. Johns University 68-65.

In today's semi-final round, Utah State takes on Miami and De Paul meets the Manhattan Jaspers who trounced Cincinnati 75 to 60.

In the Big Seven Tourney at Kansas City Saturday night, a lightly regarded Yale team tripped Colorado 56-54.

In Semi-Finals
In the other game, Kansas State walloped Oklahoma 93 to 69, The winners joined Kansas and Missouri in the semi-finals.

In the Southwest Conference Tournament at Dallas, Arkansas and Southern Methodist advanced to the semi-final round. The Razorbacks whipped Arizona 68 to 51 while SMU rode over Texas A&M 57-35. Rice and Baylor are the other semi-finalists.

In the Hofstra Invitation Tournament, Lehigh beat Alfred 38 to 56 and Cortland (NY) defeated Delaware 58-50 in first round games.

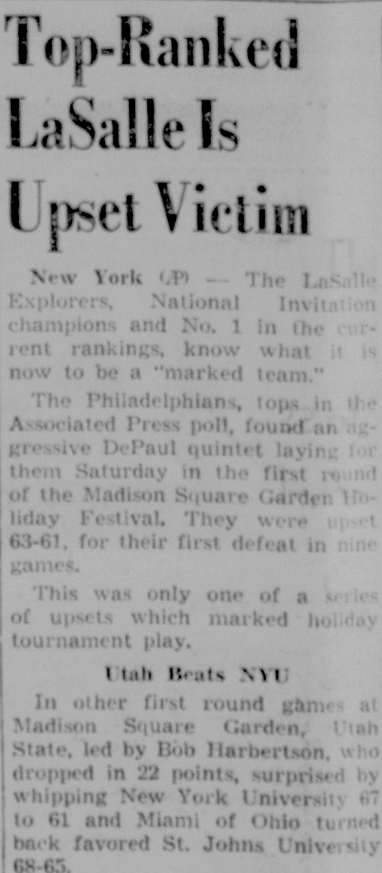

Illinois Wins
In non-tournament games, Illinois, No. 2 in the Associated Press poll, rebounded from last Tuesday's defeat by Minnesota to trample Ohio State 87 to 62.

Unbeaten Seton Hall (No. 3), with Walt Dukes scoring 30 points, racked up its tenth straight triumph as they outclassed Iowa 67 to 54.

In another twin-bill at Philadelphia, Johnny O'Brien established a new four-year scoring record as Seattle downed St. Josephs 90-77.

Total Now 2,618
The mighty mite tallied 26 points to bring his collegiate total to 2,618. In the other game, Fordham won its seventh straight without a defeat, trouncing Temple 69-58.

Tulsa, also unbeaten, captured its seventh in a row with a 66-56 victory over Idaho.

East Upsets West, 21 To 20, In Action-Packed Thriller

San Francisco (AP)—A last-minute touchdown gave the East a narrow 21-20 victory over the West in a thrill-packed game Saturday before a capacity crowd of 62,000 fans in Kezar Stadium. It was the 28th annual renewal of the East-West game, played for the benefit of the Shrine's crippled children's hospitals.

The winning touchdown came as the climax of a 71-yard drive late in the fourth quarter. Bill Reynolds of Pittsburgh scrambled five yards around left end for the six-pointer and Bob Hauser of Villanova converted his third straight extra point to upset the favored West-erners.

Passing Record
By completing 21 tosses in 37 attempts, Tom O'Connell set a new passing record for the series and the title of most valuable player on the field.

The struggle, the last half of which was played in a rain, actually was decided early in the first quarter when Bill Reynolds broke through to block a try for extra point by Nebraska's Bob Reynolds. This followed the initial touchdown by John Olzewski after O'Connell had fumbled deep in East territory.

Two Touchdowns
The East went ahead when O'Connell passed to Georgia's Harry Babcock in the end zone and Haner converted. A second touchdown came in the second quarter on an off-tackle slash by Michigan State's Don McLaughlin.

Before the half ended, Olzewski plunged over from the two and Bob Reynolds converted to make the score 14-13. Early in the fourth period, the West forged ahead again at 20-14 on a pass from Washington's Don Heinrich to Oklahoma's Billy Vessels that was good for 49 yards. Reynolds added the bonus point.

That set the stage for East's closing drive and victory.

Fitzpatrick To Coach Pirates
Pittsburgh (AP)—Fred Haney, new manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, will have one of his old assistants as a coach. The Pirates have signed John A. Fitzpatrick to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of Milt Stock. Fitzpatrick had been a coach for Hollywood of the Pacific Coast League, the club formerly managed by Haney.

Attendance Drops
Chicago (AP)—Big Ten Conference football teams (including Michigan State) played in 58 games before 2,807,107 people in 1952. That was a decrease from the 1951 record of 2,956,301 in 60 contests. The average attendance was 48,398 which is a drop of 1.77 per cent from last year.

ARRIVING in New York is Mme. Leon Volterra of Paris, owner of 120 race horses. The shawl she wears bears a picture of one of her star steeds.

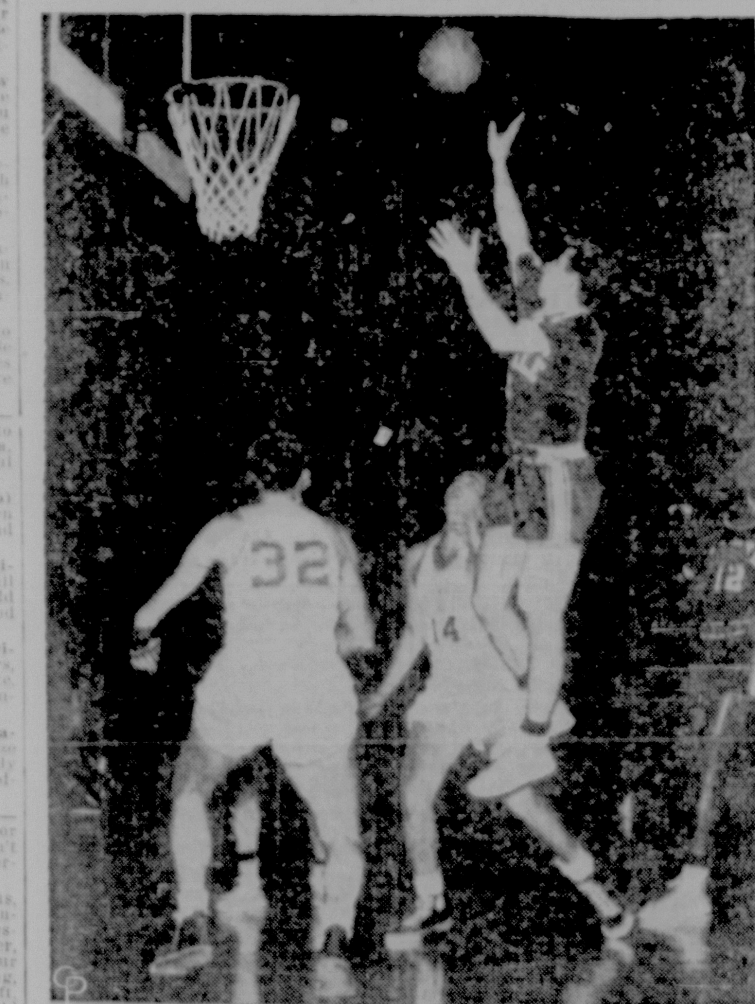

Rival Coaches Disagree On Bowl Odds

Dallas (AP)—The Texas football squad came in yesterday to complete the cast for the Cotton Bowl game and to start the inevitable banter between coaches trying to get their teams off the spot.

Harvey Robinson, acting head coach of Tennessee, which flew in Saturday night, said Texas should be a seven-point choice.

Coach Ed Price of Texas declared, as soon as his squad unloaded from a plane yesterday afternoon that neither should be favored in the odds—it was an even-Stephen proposition.

When Al Sharkey won the 1952 American Bowling Congress singles title he never sat down between shots. The Chicagoan said that he never sits down when he is bowling good.

IN A SPINE-TINGLING game, the highest scoring encounter in New York's Madison Square Garden in 19 years, Seattle nips New York U. 102-101, with Ed O'Brien of Seattle potting this one.

Light Heavies To Clash In Miami Bout

New York (AP)—The old war horse of the ring, and Danny Nardico, the fighting Marine from Tampa, Fla., collide in a Miami ten rounder that should provide plenty of fireworks Wednesday night.

The light heavyweight scrap will be telecast from Miami, the first sports event to be beamed out of Florida on the TV networks.

At stake for the winner will be a possible non-title bout in February with light heavyweight champion Archie Moore in St. Louis.

Davis vs. Chavez
In the other coast-to-coast TV fight of the week, featherweight contenders Teddy (Redtop) Davis of Hartford, and Fabela Chavez of Los Angeles tangle in a ten rounder topping the Friday night Madison Square Garden card.

Tonight, Floyd Patterson, the Olympic middleweight champion, makes his main event debut against Lulu Sabotin of Warren, O., in an eight-rounder at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena. The bout, topping an all-star card with part of the receipts going to the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund, will be telecast in some sections of the country.

In another good bout tonight, undefeated Johnny Saxton of Brooklyn faces Danny (Bang Bang) Womber of Chicago in a battle of welterweight contenders.

The week's program includes:
Monday: At Brooklyn, John L. Sullivan, England, vs. Irvin Schultz, New York, middles; Randy Sandy, New York, middles; and George Kaplan, Brooklyn, vs. Jimmy DeLange, New York, heavies (all eight); at Trenton, N.J., George Johnson, Trenton, vs. Sam Walker, Springfield, Mass., middles 10; and Gene Takach, Trenton, vs. Tommy Jessup, Springfield, Mass., lights 8; at Providence, R.I., Tip-py Larkin, Garfield, N.J., vs. Steve Marcello, Providence, welters, 10.

Other Bout
Tuesday: At White Plains, N.Y., Nicola Funari, Italy, vs. Pat Mallane, Waterbury, Conn., foathers, 8; at Newark, N.J., Henry Lee, of Springfield, Mass., vs. Hurley Sanders, Newark, middles, 10.

Friday: At New York (Garden), Marcel (Rocky) Brisebois, Montreal, vs. Tony Cimmino, Bayonne, N.J., welters, 10, and Richie Reed, White Plains, N.Y., vs. Carmine Flore, Brooklyn, welters, 10.

Saturday: At Brooklyn (Ridge-wood Grove) Willie Dockery, of Brooklyn, vs. Al Winn, New York, middles, 8; and Tommy Jackson New York, vs. Ray Thomas, New York, heavies, 8.

CONVALESCING from polio, Norm Standlee, San Francisco Forty-Niner fullback, is allowed to spend the holidays with his family in their Menlo Park, Calif., home. He holds his daughters, Susan and Shirley, while his wife, Cleo, looks on. The football star was stricken a month ago.

Sugar Bowl Team Felled By Virus Bug

Biloxi, Miss. (AP)—Fourteen Mississippi football players were stricken with virus infections yesterday and Coach Johnny Vaught said his Rebels' Sugar Bowl chances against Georgia Tech had been handed "a serious blow."

The players, all confined to their rooms, included backs Allen Muirhead, Lea Paslay, Harold Lofton, Jim Ingram and Reggie Ott; ends Jim Slay and Jim Bridges; tackles Bobby McKinney, Charles Montgomery and Charles Morganti and guard Dennis Ott.

Old Forge To Enter Tourney
Johnstown (AP)—Three undefeated teams and one with a 4-1 record will compete in the fourth annual Cambria County War Memorial Invitational High School Basketball Tournament tonight and Tuesday.

In first round play, Greensburg (6-0) will meet Old Forge (4-1) and Sharon (6-0) will clash with Johnstown (6-0).

The West Virginia football team gained an average of five yards every time it carried the ball this season. They limited opponents to only 2.5 yards per carry.

His Name Is Smith But -- Not An Ordinary Gridder

Washington, C. H. O. — The nation's major collegiate football powers are finding Carl Smith as difficult to corral as did the opponents of Washington C. H. High school on the gridiron.

By way of introduction, Smith, a 190-pound halfback, was the state's most outstanding footballer during the past season. He paced the Washington C. H. Blue Lions to a spectacular undefeated-untied season.

Smith receives his diploma in June but he can't seem to decide where he wishes to pursue his collegiate education.

Among the schools he has visited are Ohio State, Florida, Tennessee, Georgia Tech, Notre Dame, Kentucky, Miami of Ohio and Purdue.

Thanks to air travel, "Scintillating Carl" loses only a minimum of his high school class time as he bids for the title of the "most widely-traveled grid star in the country."

Other schools that have displayed an interest in him include Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Miami of Florida and Southern California. He may attend the Rose Bowl as the guest of a group of Southern California fans.

Smith explains that most of the "offers" he has received are from interested alumni and booster groups rather than the institutions.

Carl says he places an education before his athletic endeavors but yet he is anxious to select a college that stands high in sportsdom.

At the Ohio State-Michigan game last month, he was the guest of the Ohio State Frontliners, a semi-official organization that sees to it Buckeye high school athletes do not overlook the big institution of learning in Ohio's capital city.

In nine games during the past season, Smith scored a total of 294 points. He finished second to Half-back Hubert Bobo of Chauncey, 185-pounder, scored 891 points in four years of high school football.

Mrs. W. A. Kuntz and daughter, Miss Katherine Kuntz, visited Mrs. Kuntz's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Snyder, of Mr. Bethel, for Christmas day Mrs. Kuntz is now entertaining Mrs. Elizabeth Krusky, of New York City, for a couple of days.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Meixell had as dinner guests Christmas, Mr. Meixell's stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Piper, of Bangor, Pa. Later the Meixells and their daughters Paula and Kathy called on Mrs. E. W. Kunkle and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Kunkle, at Beaver Valley, Pa. They also were at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nevin Kunkle, of Bartonville, Pa. Mrs. Nevin Kunkle was permitted by her physician to spend Christmas day and Friday away from the General Hospital, and with her family at Bartonville.

Mr. and Mrs. George Brockman of the Gap and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Waite and sons, Richard and James, of Quakertown, Pa., had Christmas dinner with Mrs. Charles Rapp and Mrs. Ann Frederick. When the Waites returned to their home, they left Richard and Jimmy with their grandmother, Mrs. Rapp, for a week's visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Gehm spent Christmas night at the home of Mrs. Gehm's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Loney, of Hamilton St., Stroudsburg. Mrs. Loney is one of Monroe County's visiting nurses.

Water Gap folk have enjoyed the organ and chime music amplified each night recently from the belfry of the Presbyterian Church. This was planned by the church Men's Association and carried out through the kindness of Christmas Anthony III, organist. These broadcasts were conducted Christmas evening, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony and children, Linda and James, remained home with Mrs. Anthony's father, A. Okuno, Christmas instead of taking their usual trip to Philadelphia to Mr. Anthony's relatives.

The borough truck-weighing scales are being moved from their location near Mrs. Thomas Brockhead's property to their new location farther out Foxtown Hill Road, on the left side, near Powell's Antique Shop, which was formerly the Glenwood Hotel Paradise Club. Shiffer Bituminous Co., by bid, was awarded the job.

AH, NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS! SO BEAUTIFUL BUT FRAGILE!

By M. E. Byrne
(Written for Central Press and this Newspaper)

Once again that season when a goodly number of fellow citizens indulge in some pretty first-class soul-searching and conscience-cleansing is upon us.

In other—and much simpler—words it's New Year's resolution making time again.

Making New Year's resolutions is a fine old American custom, the origin of which is lost in the dim mists of antiquity. Today, making resolutions—and breaking them—is regarded by most citizens as one of those inalienable rights.

Making January 1 resolutions is a far more popular sport than even those football bowl games, if only for the simple reason that many more people can and do participate in the business.

A good New Year's resolution has a sort of double-barreled satisfaction. There is the glow, in the wake of a Grade A hangover, that comes with a noble decision. It does for the troubled mind what hircarb does for the butterfly stomach.

Later—and almost inevitably—comes the added fun of busting the resolution wide-open.

The breaking of New Year's resolutions is an absolute necessity if the custom of making them is to prevail—for if everyone kept his resolve intact throughout the year, there'd be no need to make it again come January 1. That's simple arithmetic.

The cup that cheers and the weed that comforts are naturally the subject of more New Year's resolutions than all others combined. We don't happen to have the exact statistics at hand on how many people every January 1 resolve never again to put lip to wassail bowl or to inhale the noxious nicotine, but the figure must run into the staggering thousands.

Lucky for the brewmaster and the tobacco auctioneer that few if any of these resolutions last beyond the first week of the first month. For, if they did, the hops and the corn would wither in the field and the tobacco plantation would be given over to the boll weevil.

There are other and minor New Year's resolutions—such as determination to get to the office on time, to eschew poker or the weekly canasta binge, to abandon the idea that all other motorists are dangerous lunatics and to give up telling fellow workers the jokes heard on last night's radio or TV. Obviously, none of these determinations are worth the time it takes to think them up. It's just too much of a strain on a human's physical and mental makeup.

We once did know a fellow who made all six of the above resolutions and, what's more, he kept each to the letter for a full year. He became the world's greatest grouch.

A. J. Bogert, Of Paradise, Death Victim

Arthur J. Bogert, 87, Paradise Valley, died at 9:45 p. m. Saturday at the Parkway Rest Home, Allentown, following several years of illness.

He was a lifelong resident of Paradise Valley, was a farmer there. He was a member of St. Paul's Reformed Church, Swiftwater.

Surviving are a son, George, of Paradise Valley; eight daughters, Mrs. Stewart Rowe, Mrs. Russell Shick, Mrs. George Coffman and Mrs. Walter Coffman, all of Cresco, Mrs. Edna Bisbing, East Stroudsburg RD, Mrs. Aza Singer, Reeders and Mrs. Henry Zellekoop, Hoboken, N. J., and Mrs. John Seese, Bloominggrove, Pa.; 34 grandchildren and 30 great-grandchildren.

Services will be at 2 p. m. Wednesday at Gantzhorn funeral home, Tannersville, with Rev. William Foose officiating. Burial will be at East Swiftwater Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 p. m. Tuesday.

Will Serve As WCA Official

Santiago, Chili, (AP)—Negro singer Josephine Baker said yesterday that Chilean President Carlos Ibanez has agreed to become an honorary president of the World Cultural Association against racial and religious discrimination.

United States-born Miss Baker, who is making a South American singing tour, helped found the association in Buenos Aires. Argentine President Juan Peron is another honorary president of the body. Miss Baker said the association will hold a world congress in Buenos Aires in March.

Learns Have Family Reunion

The Christmas Holiday witnessed a family reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dale H. Learn, on the Paradise Trail. Both of their sons were able to get a brief furlough from the Army in order to spend Christmas at home.

Pfc. Glenn W. Learn, who is stationed at the Eglin Air Force Base near Pensacola, Florida arrived home for Christmas last Sunday night. Pfc. Clyde D. Learn, who is stationed at Fort Belvoir, Virginia, came home Christmas Eve.

To Build Hotels

Naples, Italy (AP)—The Italian government will finance construction of 13 new hotels in the South next year as part of a program to attract more tourists and reduce unemployment in the area.

The program will cost three billion lire $4,800,000.

James J. Gustie Dies At Home After Illness

James J. Gustie, 73, died at his home, 82 Broad St., Stroudsburg, Saturday at 6:15 a. m.

He was born in West Orange, N. J., the son of Clement and Bridget Gallagher Gustie and had lived in that city until taking up his residence in Stroudsburg 30 years ago.

Surviving are his wife, Ethel Nevil Gustie; one daughter, Mrs. Ethel Johnson and a granddaughter, Miss Jerri Johnson, all of Stroudsburg; a sister, Mrs. Julia Palardy, Cedar Grove, N. J. and a number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 11 a. m. at the Warner funeral home, Rev. Harold G. Durkin officiating. Interment will be made in the Gates of Heaven section of Laurelwood Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home today after 7 p. m.

Clarke Says His Backing For Dilworth

Philadelphia, (AP)—Mayor Joseph S. Clark Jr. says he will use "whatever small influence I have within the party" in backing Philadelphia's district attorney, Richardson Dilworth, for governor of Pennsylvania.

Clark made his position known yesterday in a letter to John M. Cummings, political columnist of the Philadelphia Inquirer.

In the letter, Clark said he would not accept a nomination, nor would he run if nominated, or serve if elected.

"I am, and always have been," Clark wrote, "for Dick Dilworth for governor."

Dilworth was the unsuccessful Democratic candidate for governor in the 1950 elections. He was defeated by Republican John Fine, the present governor.

Ask Dewey To Seize Lines

New York, (AP)—The CIO Transport Workers Union yesterday asked Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to seize New York City's private bus lines threatened by strike, but a spokesman for the governor quickly replied that Dewey had no such authority.

The governor was asked by the union to seize and operate the eight private lines, to prevent a strike set for Jan. 1.

The TWU is seeking a 40-hour work week and a 25 cents hourly pay increase for the 8,000 drivers employed by the lines, which serve about 3½ million riders daily.

Present hourly wages range from $1.66 to $1.73.

Martin To Head Public Works

Washington, (AP)—Sen. Edward Martin, R-Pa. is expected to become chairman of the Public Works Committee in the new Congress. Martin is the senior senator from Pennsylvania and was reelected in the Nov. 4 general election.
